NO. 177—SEVENTIETH YEAR | VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, THURSDAY, JULY 5, 1928 | TWENTY-TWO PAGES

INCOME TAX REDUCTION ADVOCATED

Abolition of Succession Duty Also Urged by Conservative Speakers in Victoria West

SUGAR-COATING OF PILL IS EXPOSED

Reduction of Imposts by Invention of New Ones Illustrated by Speakers—Confident of Victory

A cut of about fifty per cent in the income tax and total abolition of the succession duty impost were the keynotes of the gospel of relief for the people preached by the Conservative candidates at last evening's meeting in Stanley Hall, Victoria West. The promise was received with geneuine approval by an attentive and very appreciative gathering, over which Mr. Colby presided and introduced the candidates.

Dr. MacLean's pleasant way of sugar-coating the pill of extracting more and still more money from the taxpayers also was illustrated in a way which caught the spirit of the audience when they were shown how the Government reduced taxation by inventing other taxes to take the repealed imposts.

Mr. J. Hinchliffe jocularly referred to the hardness of the chairs, and the decision of the candidates not to prolong the meetings, as the reasons why he would be brief. He was very cordially received.

He stated that in his recent tour he found that a wonderful change has come over British Columbia, and while he was not certain of some seats in British Columbia, there was not one seat he would concede absolutely to the Liberals. (applause). The selection of the Conservative ticket in Vancouver creat'ed panic in the Liberal ranks, and sounded the death knell of the present Government.

Dr. MacLean had a pleasant way of doing things. He tells us he is reducing taxation, and yet gets more money out of us. That is a doctor's way of putting a sugar-coat on the pill. This year he proposes to take over $20,000,000 from the people. It was like the reduction of taxes in Victoria, where, for example, the tax on land was reduced from, say, $100 to $75, but $50 was put on improvements. That is Dr. MacLean's pleasant method of reduction.

RESOURCES NOT DEVELOPED

The natural resources of the Province are not being developed; they are being exploited, and a scene of devastation left. Dr. Tolmie, on the contrary, had a vision of contented people, prosperous com-

Injunction Forbids Father to Take Son On Airplane Rides

CHICAGO, July 4.—An injunction forbids Paul R. Weingarten to take his six-year-old son airplaning.

Mrs. Weingarten, divorcee, said she could not sleep nights. Weingarten said his son got a thrill and was always asking for a ride. Judge Sabath decided the boy should wait a few years, remarking that then flying probably would be as common as automobiling.

Aviator Missing Five Days Makes Return to Vessel

MOSCOW, July 4.—The Soviet aviator Babushkin, who left his base ship, the icebreaker Maligin, Friday, in a search for stranded members of the Italia's crew, returned to the Maligin today after a harrowing five days' experience with wind and icebergs.

Shortly after leaving the Maligin last week Babushkin encountered head winds, with which he struggled for some time, but which finally forced his descent in the sea eighty miles northeast of Hope Island.

There his fragile seaplane was in constant danger of being crushed by the icebergs before it finally got off the water again and found the Maligin. Both Babushkin and the crew of the plane escaped injury.

Com. G. B. Spicer Simson, D.S.O., Tells Story of International Hydrographic Bureau

SECRETARY IS VISITING HERE

Was Senior Naval Officer Selected to Capture German Flotilla on Lake Tanganyika During War

MAKING the seas of the world safer for navigation, by international co-operation, is the function of the International Hydrographic Bureau, whose secretary-general, Commander Geoffrey B. Spicer Simson, D.S.O., is staying here with his wife.

This bureau, says Commander Simson, came into being in 1921 to advance the theory and practice of hydrography, and by bringing surveys and charts into uniformity, to enable the seaman to navigate wherever he may be located.

An interesting point to those who are not seafaring men is the announcement that the bureau is actually defining the boundaries of the oceans of the world, which has never been done previously by any international authority. For instance, both Argentina and Chile claim the Straits of Magellan, and thereby contest the Straits being treated as part of the Atlantic or of the Pacific. After so many centuries of navigation, the bureau has at length defined the North and South Atlantic oceans as the area of water lying north and south respectively of a line from Cape Palmas, in Liberia, to Cape Orange, in Northern Brazil. There are similar definitions which have hitherto been vague and which, in countries where a bounty is paid on long voy-

MAN DROWNS IN HARBOR WATERS

ALPHONSO MARQUIS MEETS DEATH IN FALL FROM LOCAL TUG J.W.P.

Capt. Ivan Clarke Jumps in Fully Clothed in Rescue Attempt

Alphonso Marquis, cook aboard the tug Restless, fell into the harbor last evening from the tug J.W.P., shortly before 8 o'clock, and was drowned, efforts to rescuscitate him proving futile.

Louis Fointierre, cook aboard the J.W.P., last saw Marquis on the stern of the tug drying his coat. Two boys in a rowboat near Central Wharf saw the man fall in the water and shouted to Captain Ivan Clarke, who was on the Island Tug & Barge Company's dock.

Fully clothed and able to swim only a few strokes, Captain Clarke jumped in to aid the struggling man. With the help of Captain Joseph Barlow, of the tug Hopkins, and the two boys, George Edgar, thirteen years, 1317 Pinlayson Street, and Joseph Hancock, twelve years, 1314 Carlin Street, Marquis was dragged onto a scow and from there taken to the Island Tug & Barge Company's dock, and the police were called.

Constable G. Clare and Driver S. Wilkinson responded to the call. After trying artificial respiration and a pulmotor for over half an hour, Dr. John Moore pronounced life extinct. The remains were removed to the B. C. Funeral Parlors.

BETTER PLAN

ROME, July 4.—How an insane school teacher tried to rob St. Peter's statue of its tiara, robes and ornaments in St. Peter's basilica on Patrons' Day, has just been disclosed by the police.

Giovannia Paras, aged thirty, broke up a procession of pilgrims, paying devotion at the statue.

"What is all this?" he shouted, "Away with it all. Give the precious stones to the poor—no, I have thought of a better plan, give me these jewels."

Among the uproar the gendarmes seized him and removed him to a psychopathic hospital, where he was declared insane.

Arrival of Atlantic Plane in Old Country

The seaplane Friendship, which carried Miss Amelia Earhart and her two companions across the Atlantic Ocean from Newfoundland to Wales, is here seen coming up Southampton Water, the final destination of the plane, after leaving Burryport, where it first landed.

Trades and Labor Congress Issues Convention Call

OTTAWA, July 4.—The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada will hold its forty-fourth annual convention in Toronto on September 10. The convention call issued today cites the following as among the chief questions which will be submitted by the executive council to the convention:

Adoption by all the provinces of the Old Age Pensions Act; improvement in workmen's compensation laws; re-enactment of the Technical Education Act, 1919; amendments to the Immigration Act; eight hour day; curtailment of veto powers, of the Senate; amendments to B.N.A. Act; unemployment and unemployment insurance; national fuel policy; Militia Act amendment; labor representation on tariff board and elimination of the sales tax.

HEAD CHOSEN FOR TERMINAL

Mr. James Burden, Experienced Grain Man, Will Be in Charge at Ogden Point Elevators

PROGRESS PLEASES MANAGEMENT

Mr. James Burden has been appointed by the Panama Pacific Grain Terminals, Limited, as superintendent of the terminal at Ogden Point.

Mr. Burden was for some years identified with the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company at Port Arthur, Ont. The Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company was the largest initial grain-handling concern in the world, and a recommendation of Mr. Burden from that quarter is enthusiastic.

He also holds recommendations from members of the Board of Grain Commissions for Canada, who speak particularly highly of his character and ability.

He has further references from Mr. C. D. Howe, of Messrs. C. D. Howe & Company, who are the consulting engineers for the City of Victoria on the terminal, and a number of others from people prominent in the grain trade.

When South Africa decided to put in a system of grain terminals, Mr. Burden was selected by the Imperial Government and proceeded to the appointment.

In connection with the elevator construction, Mr. A. J. Gibson writes from head offices at Regina:

"Our terminal seems to be shaping up well at the present time, and with the present bumper crop prospects on the Prairie continuing to maturity there seems no doubt in my mind that we will have to increase the capacity of the house at an early date. Conditions are ideal throughout the three Prairie Provinces, and grain is making wonderful headway."

LOUVAIN LIBRARY BUILDING DEDICATED

LOUVAIN, July 4.—While Hugh S. Gibson, United States ambassador, was speaking at the dedication of the new Louvain library this afternoon, airplanes flying above, dropped leaflets on which was printed the banned Latin inscription, which has caused so much controversy.

The inauguration of the new library, which is a replacement by an American gift of the famous building destroyed in the German invasion of 1914 had a distinguished group as its witnesses, among them being Prince Leopold and Princess Astrid, Cardinal Van Roy, members of the diplomatic corps, American engineers, representatives of Belgian and foreign universities, and thousands of students and school children.

STRIKE ENDED

WINNIPEG, July 4.—The carpenters' strike which has been in progress two weeks, affecting about 1,000 workmen, was called off late today and the men will return to work tomorrow morning.

The return to work order followed several conferences of union and employers' representatives today, and at a meeting of the men this afternoon it was decided to return to work pending further negotiations, which will be carried on by the workmen's representatives.

The men sought a fifteen-cent-per-hour increase, which would have brought the hourly rate of wages to $1.15.

PLANE MAY END OCEAN FLIGHT THIS MORNING

Italian Aviators Flying Nonstop From Rome to South America Make Fast Time on Voyage

MAY CONTINUE TO RIO DE JANEIRO

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 5 (Thursday).—The steamship Philarus, located north of Fernando de Noronha Island, informed the Olidna radio station at two minutes after midnight this morning that it had been in communication with the Italian flyers attempting a nonstop flight to Brazil. The airmen, Captain Arturo Ferrarin and Major Carlo P. Delprete, did not give their position.

ROME, July 4.—Two Italian airmen were tonight believed to be somewhere over the South Atlantic, more than two-thirds of their flight behind them in an effort to fly from Rome to Pernambuco, Brazil, on the mainland of South America.

Captain Arturo Ferrarin and Major Carlo P. Delprete were sighted at 5 p.m., Greenwich time, above the Cape Verde Islands, radio dispatches from that place to Buenos Aires said.

St. Vincent, Cape Verde Island, is approximately 3,000 miles from Rome and 1,600 miles from Pernambuco, but the 1,600 miles to Pernambuco is regarded as the most dangerous lap of the flight though just about one-half the distance already traversed. It is over open water, while comparatively little of that already traveled was not over either European or African coastline.

FAST PLANE

The sighting at Cape Verde saw the two airmen twenty-two hours out of Rome, with the remarkable average of better than 135 miles an hour speed in their plane from that city behind them. Should they maintain this speed and keep to their course, they would reach Pernambuco about 5 o'clock Thursday morning, Greenwich time (12 o'clock Wednesday night, Pacific Coast time).

There is no certainty of airmen landing at Pernambuco, however, if they still have fuel and can obtain their bearings. It was said prior to their departure they might continue farther south, possibly to Rio de Janeiro or other Brazilian coastal cities. This was regarded as particularly likely to happen, since the aviators are intent on beating the long distance Atlantic flight record of just less than 4,000 miles, now held by the Americans, Chamberlin and Levine.

WANT MOR CANADIAN BOOKS FOR CHILDREN

CALGARY, July 4.—"Give us more Canadian books for boys and girls. The field for informative stories of Canadian heroes and Canadian life is limitless. There is a great demand for this sort of literature which would make it profitable financially and it is gloriously worth while to write for children."

This was the appeal made by Miss Donalda Dickie, of the Calgary branch of the Canadian Authors' Association, and writer of history stories, to the opening session today of the eighth annual convention of that organization, meeting in Calgary this week, where over a hundred authors and poets have gathered from one end of Canada to the other.

Charles G. D. Roberts, Robert Stead, Arthur Stringer, Nellie McClung and Mary Wagen are among the authors of note present.

To Exempt U.S. From Operation Of U.S. Principle

GENEVA, July 4.—The conference for the abolition of export and import prohibitions today adopted a reservation to the Geneva convention of last year to permit the United States to regulate sale of American helium gas abroad.

According to the reservation the United States may prohibit entirely the sale of American helium gas, which is used principally in the inflation of dirigibles.

Hitherto the United States has been the chief advocate of the principle that no restrictions should be put upon exports. A recent instance of this was the opposition to restriction of rubber exports.

STATEMENT ON HALF HOLIDAY IS CHALLENGED

Mr. Pooley Questions Share of Mrs. M. E. Smith in Securing Early Closing Legislation

P.G.E. PROMISES ARE ASSAILED

Mr. R. H. Pooley, at a meeting held in his interest in Colwood Hall last evening, dealt with remarks made by Mrs. M. E. Smith, in which the latter had taken great credit for the half-holiday legislation. He read from a report of the statements of the Liberal candidate that she had said that at first the shopkeepers shouted out that they would be bankrupt, and have to close up.

Mrs. Smith had said that she told them to close up then, if keeping open for half a day a week was all that was standing between them and bankruptcy, they would be better to close, and she had said that she went right ahead, and the act passed.

Men had told her, according to the statement of Mrs. Smith, that "you are our only salvation; you are a boon to us; we have learned to bless you."

Mr. Pooley said that the trouble with this statement of Mrs. Smith was that this weekly half-holiday act was assented to on May 31, 1916. Mrs. Smith was not in the House at that time, nor until some time later. In fact, she was not able to vote at that time, as the franchise had not yet been given to women, and he (Mr. Pooley), had not then been able to vote for the granting of the vote to women.

P.G.E. PROMISES

"We are going to sell the P.G.E. if I am returned to power," was the statement now given out by Premier MacLean, as announced in the organ of the party, said Mr. Pooley.

This was not a new announcement. In fact he said it was the same one that had been made election after election.

On June 5, 1924, and the election that year was on June 20, the announcement had been made by Dr. MacLean, speaking at Prince George, that the P.G.E. would be pushed without delay. If the Government was returned, Dr. MacLean said then that the road would be completed from Quesnel to Prince George.

The Government was returned at that election, said Mr. Pooley, but there had not been another spike driven in the P.G.E. towards completing it since that date.

In 1920 a pamphlet was issued by the Government announcing that

Great Smelting and Mining Industry Is Instanced as Illustrating Possibilities of Province

DR. TOLMIE WOULD AID DEVELOPMENT

CRANBROOK, B.C., July 4.—Two large and enthusiastic audiences, one at Cranbrook and the other at Kimberley, were addressed this evening by Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Conservative leader; Mayor George H. Morden, of North Vancouver, and Mr. N. A. Wallinger, Conservative candidate for this district.

"The question," declared Hon. Dr. Tolmie, "that is confronting the people of British Columbia today is whether or not they desire a continuance of the wastefulness, extravagance and loose form of government that has been exemplified by the Liberals."

"We do not," shouted several voices, when he summed up the political situation in the foregoing words, in the big I.O.O.F. Hall at Cranbrook.

UNBUSINESSLIKE

Continuing, he instanced overexpenditure at the Sumas, Oliver and Merville areas, on public buildings and road constructions as evidences of the careless manner in which governmental expenditures had been made.

"Don't take my word for the character of administration that this Province has been having," he went on, "for you might think that I was prejudiced. Take the opinion of Joseph Shaw, leader of the Liberal party in the Alberta Legislature. He, in the course of a speech in that House, characterized the manner in which the public business of British Columbia was being conducted as an example of wasteful extravagance that all Provincial Governments in Canada should seek to avoid.

TO REORGANIZE LONDON POLICE

Arduous Task Given to Lord Byng —Opponents of Government Find Much Fault

LONDON, July 4.—The Government found itself in hot water today over the appointment of Lord Byng of Vimy to succeed Sir William Horwood as Commissioner of Metropolitan Police.

Sir William Joynson Hicks was severely heckled in the House of Commons by Labor members, who refused to accept the Home Secretary's assurance that the change in the commissionership had nothing to do with the recent serious charges against the police in connection with the Irene Savidge case. Sir William, in announcing the appointment to Parliament, employed the unusual phrase that Lord Byng, in accepting the post, had "responded to the call of duty."

TO REORGANIZE FORCE

Not only the Labor members of Parliament, but responsible newspapers are chafing at the appointment of a man of sixty-five to such an important post in succession to a man of sixty retiring. They also have called in question the custom of always appointing a soldier head of the police. It is admitted by authorities that Lord Byng must undertake the complete overhauling and reorganization of the police force, and the public assumes generally that this is an admission that the inquiry into the Savidge case has shown there is something radically wrong.

The Labor party finally succeeded today in inducing the Government to set apart next Wednesday for a debate in the House of Commons on the subject.

Comedian Dies

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., July 4.—Sid Smith, thirty-six-year-old motion picture comedian, died suddenly this afternoon, after attending a beach party with several friends of the film colony. Doctors who attended Smith in his last moments said he muttered something about "gin" he had drunk at the party from a stone crock. A severe attack of stomach cramps preceded his death.

World-Known Financier Meets Death by Falling Into Sea From Airplane

Captain Alfred Lowenstein, Recently in Canada to Organize Extensive Financial Operations Is Drowned on Way From England to Belgium by Falling From Passenger Aircraft

May Have Stepped From Wrong Door; Others Aboard Saw Nothing of Event

LONDON, July 4.—Captain Alfred Lowenstein, Belgian financier, whose fame was world-wide, was drowned today in one of the strangest fatalities in the history of commercial aviation.

The plane in which he was a passenger was crossing from Croydon to Brussels when the financier disappeared. His valet and two stenographers, as well as the pilot and mechanic of the plane, were present, but did not notice the incident, and it was not until arrival at Brussels that it was learned that Captain Lowenstein was gone. The British Air Ministry announced he had been drowned.

CAPT. A. LOWENSTEIN

It was assumed that Captain Lowenstein had opened the wrong door from his compartment and had fallen into the sea.

VISIT TO CANADA

TORONTO, July 4.—Captain Alfred Lowenstein, whose death was reported today, was a colorful visitor to Toronto on May 2 last. Heralded with no little interest as an international financial figure, his arrival was an impressive one. His entourage consisted of ten persons, a valet, secretaries and stenographers; a suite of six rooms, at a local hotel barely sufficed to contain the party; and the transoceanic telephone service received, while he was here, patronage such as was entirely unprecedented in Toronto.

The financier's mission was to secure payment of Brazilian Traction Company bonds in gold instead of French francs for their Belgian holders. He went about securing his end with characteristic vigor, ignoring entirely the fact that the matter was before the courts at the time, and delivering what he termed an "ultimatum" to the Toronto financiers, who direct the Brazilian company. After a stay of two days, without gaining his point, he climaxed the impression which his incisive methods had made, by flying of New York by airplane. A week later he flew back to the city and again pressed for action, but was again unsuccessful.

PROJECT DROPPED

While en route to Toronto, Captain Loewenstein intimated in an interview that part of his mission would be to organize in Canada the largest company in the world. It was to be a gigantic merger and would be in the nature of a holding company. The reason for helping Canada carry it out was given as the favorable treatment which Canadian taxation laws accorded the holding companies.

Although the advance notices were so specific as to even mention Messrs. Holt and Gundy as interested parties, the project came to nothing. Captain Loewenstein refusing to discuss it at all upon his arrival.

NARROW ESCAPE

NEW YORK, July 4.—Alfred Loewenstein, wealthy financier, who, dispatches say, was killed in a fall from an airplane, narrowly escaped death from an airplane propeller when he was in the United States earlier in the year.

He arrived here in April to make trips around Canada and the United States on business, and bought a giant trimotored Fokker to travel in, having brought his personal pilot with him from abroad. He was overcome by the publicity his action caused and became exceedingly "camera shy." At one stopping place he tried to slip away from photographers and walked directly between two of the propellers. One of the whirling blades knocked his hat from his head. He left for Europe on May 18, saying that he would return here in October.

ENORMOUS WEALTH

Loewenstein is Belgium's richest man, and in some quarters it is thought he may be the richest in the world. The size of his fortune is not known, but its magnitude is indicated by the fact that in 1926 he offered his Government the free loan of $30,000,000 for two years. Several years ago $450,000 worth of jewels were stolen from his villa in Biarritz and European operatives came here in the hope of tracing the thieves.

NEW PASTOR IS INDUCTED

Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell, B.A., Is Formerly Installed as Minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church

TRIBUTES PAID TO RT. REV. W. L. CLAY

The induction of Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell, B.A., as minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, succeeding the late Rt. Rev. W. L. Clay, drew a big congregation to the cathedral church of the Presbytery of Victoria last night. Following the formal induction service and congregational greetings, there was an informal social in the schoolroom, when Mr. Luttrell had an opportunity of chatting with all and sundry during the serving of refreshments.

The formal induction was in charge of the moderator of the Presbytery of Victoria, Rev. S. Lundie, B.A., of Sooke, who presided, and put the necessary questions to the minister at induction. In delivering his charge to the new pastor, he first of all congratulated Mr. Luttrell on the privilege of coming to such a beautiful city as Victoria to exercise his ministry, with such a congregation as St. Andrew's, "one of the finest and most influential churches in the British Columbia capital." The new incumbent was also reminded that he was being highly honored in being called to fill the pulpit occupied by the late Dr. Clay, for thirty-three years pastor of St. Andrew's, and latterly moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, "the esteemed and beloved pastor of the church for over thirty years, whose influence extended from the Atlantic to the Pacific and whom we all loved and revered."

OVER NIAGARA

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., July 4.—For the third time in history man conquered the mighty Niagara today when Jean A. Lussier, of Springfield, Mass., went over the Horseshoe Falls on the Canadian side in a specially constructed rubber ball, while 150,000 persons lining the river banks on either side, cheered and applauded him.

The start was made from Cayuga Island, about three miles above the Falls, at 2:30 o'clock, standard time, and Lussier was rescued from the bridge eddy below the Falls at 3:30 by William (Red) Hill, alone in a rowboat.

Lussier plunged over the brink at 3 o'clock.

When Hill reached the ball it was right side up. When it was towed to shore and opened, the first to greet Lussier was his sister, Madame J. P. Cuatiere, of Sherbrooke, Que.

Lussier suffered only minor bruises, all received, he said, in the terrific bouncing of the ball as it passed through the rapids above the Falls.

Concerning his sensations while going over the precipice, Lussier said: "I didn't even think. It all happened too fast."

Vice-Admiral Cowan was expected to board the wrecked cruiser at once to take charge of salvage operations.

It is expected Admiral Cowan will institute the customary court-martial.

INCOME TAX REDUCTION ADVOCATED

Mr. Hinchliffe at one time might have been sensitive as to what was said of him. But that stage had been passed. There was a young lady who had referred to him as funny and terrible, utterly without sense of humor, and totally out of touch with the younger generation. He would like that young lady to come to his house, where he has children from thirty-three to four years old, all of whom came to him with their problems. That does not show being much out of touch with the younger generation. On this and other points referred to by this young speaker, Mr. Hinchliffe advised the young lady to first make sure of her facts.

The speaker dealt with the growth of the public debt; the fever of borrowing, the invention of new schemes of taxation, and the ever-increasing burdens placed on a struggling public, and pointed to the urgent necessity of a halt in this respect. Many taxes could well be eliminated, but primarily the income and succession duty should and would be pruned. Dr. Tolmie had promised this, and he was big enough, strong enough and capable enough to have it done. It would be done by the Conservative Government after the 18th, and Mr. Hinchliffe, expressing his unbounded confidence in his leader, appealed to those present to strengthen that leader's hands by getting behind the solid four Conservatives in Victoria and placing them with the rest of the people of the Province in giving Dr. Tolmie the mandate to restore safe and sane and honest government to British Columbia.

Mr. Beatty had a comfortable smile at the ignorance—no, innocence—of the debutante who read a historical essay on the Liberal platform last evening. She evidently had a poor knowledge of the history of Confederation, and the Fathers, especially Sir John A. Macdonald, the great father of Confederation.

PROVINCIAL DEBT

Speaking of the provincial debt, it was confusing to understand the splitting up of the debt into different classes. The debt is the debt, and has to be paid. The money is owing. It is said the net debt is $46,000,000. Last September the Government wanted money, and like a private borrower, they had to give a statement of afafirs, and then they showed the gross debt as $102,000,000, less $16,000,000 alleged to be in the sinking fund. According to Mr. Hart, when they came into office the debt was $19,000,000, and now, when they are going out, it is $86,000,000 net.

Mr. Beatty also showed from the records that when the Conservative Government went out, the country was amply secured as to the P.G.E. But in 1918 the Liberal Government desired to own a railway and they took over the road, gave the contractors their plant, paid them handsomely, and released them from all obligations.

Dr. MacLean now comes out with the old bait of a promise of being able to sell the P.G.E.—if returned to power. The promise is empty and vain, and it is insulting to the intelligence of the people, especially in the terms in which this promise is made. Mr. Beatty had every confidence in his associate candidates and particularly in the ability of Dr. Tolmie to feel convinced that the P.G.E. puzzle would be solved to the satisfaction of the people by Dr. Tolmie's Government. It would not be allowed to eat its head off.

There should and would be a reduction of the income tax and the abolition of the succession duty tax. As to the latter, it worked often an actual hardship. The deceased man leaves land. The Government collects cash, after valuing the land at its own figure. The widow is called upon to get that cash, and it sometimes happens that what the man lived and worked for is sacrificed to meet the Government's demands.

There should be fair and honest treatment to the civil service. Dr. Tolmie has stated that no man who is efficient and necessary and does his work will be interfered with, and Dr. Tolmie is honest enough and fair enough to carry out his promises.

In conclusion, Mr. Beatty expressed the pride and pleasure he felt in having as a leader a man of Dr. Tolmie's ability, honesty, fearlessness and fairness, and he predicted a convincing victory for the party which he led from the people of the province on the 18th.

CORRECTS STATEMENTS

Mr. Twigg corrected a misreporting in a Liberal paper of his remarks as to Mr. Ian Mackenzie in stating that the word "honorable" had been tacked onto him. This was not so. What was stated was that Mr. Mackenzie, having been cast overboard in Vancouver, had gone to North Vancouver, where the title "honorable" had been tacked on, which could not have been done in Vancouver city.

The prosperity propaganda was made for the purpose of making it appear to be attributable to the Liberal Government. What prosperity exists is due to general conditions—a bumper crop on the Prairies for three years past, general growth of the country and especially the opening of the Panama Canal, as well as the new demand coming from China and Japan.

As to the reduction of the freight rates which cost so much of our money to secure, did the people get a loaf of bread or a single commodity one cent cheaper? That reduction was abs bed, every cent, by the Dominion Government-run harbor board at Vancouver.

The Department of Industries, as now managed, is a standing joke with the Public Accounts Committee. One concern was instanced—the Sidney Brick & Tile Company. This was acquired by an incorporated company of two men who had paid in $10. It was acquired from the department at a large price under a conditional sale agreement. It was insured and there was a fire, which did $20,000 damage. The department handed that money over to the company to rebuild the property, and a balance of some $4,000 was absorbed as part of the purchase price—the only money the purchasing company paid. That was an instance of the business ability of this department.

Then there was the Soviet piece of legislation known as the Land Settlement Act, which had the effect of driving out settlers from the country, and millions of dollars squandered in making a most unhappy mess. Everywhere that the Government ventured into business affairs resulted in a ghastly failure, an expensive muddle.

There could not be pointed out any item of policy which would show a lasting effect in mining, timber, fishing, or agriculture.

Also there had been an entire failure to build up the tourist business. Switzerland got rich on its tourist traffic through its scenery. British Columbia's scenery is incomparable, but no effort had been made to conserve its magnificent parks, its scenery and its game.

Mr. Twigg appealed that the electors would return a government which would attract capital, restore confidence, bring population and reduce taxation.

RECEIVED WARMLY

Mr. Hayward was received warmly and expressed the hope that the confidence shown by the public at the last election in the Conservative candidates would not only be repeated, but increased. The province had been afflicted with peripatetic premiers in the Liberal party in that they had to flit from one constituency to another in search of a safe seat. But Dr. Tolmie was a man who was safe and sane, honest and competent, and it was a certainty that he would be the doctor who would be called in after the 18th instant.

Clean politics were called for by the Liberals, but there was a young lady last night scathingly attacked members of the Conservative party. Perhaps the youth and innocence of the speaker might be taken into account, and also it may be that the remarks of Mr. M. B. Jackson for clean politics and avoidance of personalities were rather a reproof to the thoughtlessness of this young girl.

Mr. Hayward outlined the spendthrift conduct of the Government, which had evoked from a Liberal leader in the Prairies the warning held out by British Columbia as a horrible example of "spendthrift zeal." The Conservatives claimed the right to criticize, not to abuse, and it was right to point out the faults, if not worse, of the Government. In road contracts the Government's policy of looking after its friends—not the lowest tenderers—was dealt with, the speaker showing not only that contract after contract was given to friends at higher prices and even those prices exceeded when the work was completed. It is pertinent to ask whether anything took place between the Government and these contracting friends, as occurred with the Point Grey contract given to the Italian contractor, De Palor, who was given a present of $7,000 sent to the Liberal Association at Vancouver. Did this procure the Italian vote at the last election.

Patronage was rampant, despite the virtuous cry of abolition of patronage on which the Liberals came into power. It is a prerequisite that a person or a firm must approach the Government through the Liberal Association. There was an instance of this in an attempt by a local printer applying for a share of the printing of the voters' list.

RESENTS MACHINE

There was one Liberal, Mr. Shoemaker, of North Vancouver, who had the courage to resent the pressure of the machine, and he, with others, resented the foisting of Mr. Ian Mackenzie, who had failed in Vancouver.

The uncountable new taxes imposed on the people by this Government should give food for thought, and now we are threatened with a third income tax. If the province does not pause in its spending and taxing there will be an aftermath of a serious nature which inevitably follows extravagance. Economy consistent with efficiency is indispensable. What is wanted is reduction in taxation, not accompanied by a new tax to replace the repealed or reduced impost.

Industrial enterprise should be encouraged by manufacturing in our own country our own resources, not allowing these resources to go to foreign countries.

The West Coast Road is a bait held out to purchase Victoria, but Dr. Tolmie will build that road.

There had been a determined campaign to effect a reduction of the succession duty tax, a small reduction had been secured, but with a string attached to it. It is the object of the Conservatives to make a sweeping reduction, if not entire abolition. There had been a ten per cent reduction in the income tax, but at the same time there was a loan bill of some six million dollars. Also there was a four million dollar loan for the P.G.E. Does this indicate reduction of taxation?

The speaker referred to the Premier's cry for support on his promise to sell the P.G.E. if he is returned because he is on friendly terms with Ottawa, as not being a statesmanlike appeal.

In conclusion Mr. Hayward appealed for a united vote for the four candidates if it is desired to smash this political machine. The speaker was genuinely applauded when he closed with the statement that Dr. Tolmie was capable of breaking that machine and giving British Columbia honest and clean government.

The meeting closed with cheers for Dr. Tolmie and the four candidates, followed by the singing of the National Anthem.

YOUNGER CHANG DESIRES PEACE

Successor to Rule of Manchuria Endeavors to Conciliate Nationalists

PEKING, July 4.—Foreign consular reports from Mukden today said that Chang Huse-Liang, military governor of Mukden, had sent a circular telegram to Nationalist leaders announcing that he was voluntarily withdrawing his armies to the north of the Great Wall. He asserted that this was a peaceful gesture.

Chang urged the Nationalists to convoke at an early date a people's conference in which Manchurian representatives should be included to unify China.

The telegram did not mention the acceptance of the Kuomintang flag or the principles of Sun Yat Sen, which the Nanking Nationalists are demanding, but it was interpreted as preliminary to negotiations for unification.

Chang is also sending peace envoys to Peking to confer with Chiang Kai-Shek.

"That's what comes of being so attractive," sighed the flapper as she was hit by lightning.

CROATS REJOICE

AGRAM, Jugoslavia, July 4. — There was general rejoicing throughout Croatia when it was announced that the Vuikitchvitch Government, whom the Croats hold responsible for the recent parliamentary assassinations, had failed. Public enthusiasm was not diminished by a subsequent report that King Alexander had asked the retiring Cabinet to continue during the emergency, for the Croats are convinced that the fate of the present Government is sealed.

NEW PASTOR IS INDUCTED

SPECIAL THEME

The special theme of the charge, however, was the duties and responsibilities of a Christian minister, which were defined as threefold, being found, first, in the splendid scope and room for the development of every gift in man's possession; second, in the need of a clear conception of his mission; and, third, in the privilege of giving of his best to all departments of the church's work.

REV. H. P. S. LUTTRELL

Rev. T. H. Davies, M.A., of Knox Presbyterian Church, preached the sermon to the congregation, his theme being the inspiration of faith. Christian victory, he said, was still incomplete. But there was still before the Christian the vision of Christ as leader. Christ's cause was still invincible; the spirit of Christ was still irresistible. The inspiration of faith was the living Christ.

Following Mr. Davies' sermon was Rev. J. S. Paterson's address to the congregation. Using the parable of the sower who went forth to sow, he said that it was necessary for the success of the work of such a church as St. Andrew's to have a good sower and to have good seed. But it was just a necessary to have good soil. In looking to the future of St. Andrew's, the cathedral church of Presbyterianism on Vancouver Island, and which was looked to to give the color and interpretation of Presbyterianism to incoming tourists, he hoped that this church would properly present what Presbyterianism stood for in Canada; that the interpretation would not only be scholarly, but that the church would be both missionary and evangelical in spirit. Some of the seed, as in the parable, might fall by the wayside or in stony ground or among thorns, but some would also inevitably fall in good ground.

INVOCATION AND PRAYER

The remainder of the induction service consisted of the invocation and prayers, delivered by Rev. T. H. Davies; a Scripture reading from Hebrews, ii; the hymns "All Hail the Power of Jesu's Name," "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" and "Rise, O Men of God"; and the anthem by the choir, "How Lovely Are the Messengers." Mr. Jesse Longfield presided at the organ.

The new minister of St. Andrew's, Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell, B.A., is a graduate of Presbyterian College, Montreal, ordained in 1906; in 1908 he was inducted by the Presbytery of Ottawa to Zion Church, Hull, P.Q.; and in 1909 went to China, remaining in Honan until 1926. St. Andrew's is his first Canadian charge since he left the foreign mission field. His family left Toronto last night, en route West, and after visiting for a few weeks with friends in Winnipeg and elsewhere will join Mr. Luttrell in Victoria.

ICE BREAKER HALTED

ROME, July 4.—The ice-breaker Krassin, seeking to rescue the marooned members of the dirigible Italia's crew from their floating refuge near Foyn Island, again has been halted by huge masses of ice, says a mesage from the base ship, Citta di Milano.

In the meantime the floe on which the men are huddled, is drifting westward, having reached tonight a position five miles west of that reported yesterday. Thus the rescue vessel and the men it hopes to save are less than fifty miles apart.

Dublin Greets Flyers

DUBLIN, July 4.—A state welcome was given to the transatlantic airmen, Major James Fitzmaurice, Captain Herman Koehl and Baron Von Huenefeld today. They were received by President Cosgrave and other ministers at the Government Buildings and later by Governor-General James McNeil at Vice-Regal Lodge.

The coincidence of their reception with United States Minister Frederick A. Sterling's first celebration of the Fourth of July in Ireland made the latter's garden party at the legation in Phoenix Park a memorable occasion.

ages, as in the Latin countries, will clarify the relations between governments and shipping companies.

REASON FOR HIS CHOICE

While Commander Simson has had much experience in the profession of hydrography, the special reason of his selection for his post was his accomplishment as a linguist. He had been Assistant Director of Naval Intelligence to the British authorities in the negotiations which preceded the Treaty of Versailles, where such attainments were essential. When the international conference on hydrography was called later at the instigation of the late Vice-Admiral Sir John F. Parry, who was on this station as a captain, he selected Commander Simson as official interpreter, and from this temporary attachment the commander passed into his present permanent appointment.

Commander Simson has a fine set of pictures of naval scenes, notably of submarine warfare, which he is pleased to show under the auspices of patriotic organizations, having been permitted to select them from the collection of the Admiralty.

ROMANTIC CAREER

His own career since he entered the British Navy in 1888 has been a romantic one. He won the China Medal in 1900, served next year on the boundary commission for North Borneo, and made the first triangulated survey of the Upper Yangtze River. For four years he was director of the Gambia survey, and boundary commissioner. During that time he navigated a thirty-eight-ton steam vessel from England to West Africa.

In 1915 he was commissioned as senior naval officer at Lake Tanganyika. He transported two small armed motor launches some 3,000 miles overland from Capetown to Lake Tanganyika, over unexplored territory. The expedition of twenty-eight men had to face the unhealthful climate of Central Africa, and drag the boats over mountain passes without roads, often pushing forward in high temperatures, and short of rations. The expedition got through in five months, and proceeded to attack the German flotilla on the lake. This consisted of four ships, the smallest of which was seven times, and the largest one hundred times the combined tonnage of the two British boats. Within five weeks the enemy ships had been sunk or captured, without a casualty.

Commander Simson has a number of British and foreign decorations, including one from Monaco, where are established in that principality, as neutral ground, the offices of the International Hydrographic Bureau.

His reason for the present visit is that Mrs. Simson is a sister of Miss Baynes-Reed, 1736 Lee Avenue, and there they are staying during a brief visit to this coast. They were married when Commander Simson was located on this naval station.

TRAIL PROVES WHAT CAN BE DONE IN B.C.

GREAT TRAIL SMELTER

The Conservative leader pointed out the great advantage to British Columbia and to the Kootenay districts in particular, of the development carried on in recent years by the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. of Canada. This concern gave its patronage wherever possible to the products of British Columbia, Canada and the Empire, and the result was that not only by processing the products of its mines within the Province did it directly contribute millions to the payrolls of the country, but by its purchases gave employment to scores and hundreds of workers in other industries. It was the encouragement of similar purchasing and development plans for industry that was the aim of the Conservative policy.

SHOULD HAVE OTHERS

"By proper governmental cooperation, not by pap feeding, for I am opposed to that, but by proper encouragement, other great industries like those under the Consolidated management can be built up within the Province, providing employment for our workers and establishing real prosperity in the country. By such development we can establish in British Columbia those opportunities that will keep our young boys and girls at home after they graduate from our schools."

Mayor Morden, who was also given a splendid reception, dealt with the Government's claim to having passed a great deal of social legislation.

UNDER DURESS

It would be remarkable if the Government had not done something along these lines, he said, inasmuch as for the past four years it had been held in power by the four Labor members in the Legislature, who at any time could have dismissed it. It was one thing to pass social and labor legislation under duress, and another to put it on the statute book when the Government had a strong majority. He pointed to the fact that the Conservatives, when in power with a large majority, had enacted a great many social and labor measures, such as the Workmen's Compensation Act, and different mining measures, and had passed legislation giving votes to women, which measure was ratified by the male voters.

Hon. Dr. Tolmie will speak at Nelson, Thursday night.

World Peace Discussed

LONDON, July 4.—World peace was the subject under discussion by the Commonwealth Labor conference this evening when Lord Olivier declared the question of peace and war should be shifted to an international organization like the League of Nations.

The Dominions, he said, should declare themselves autonomous as far as peace and war were concerned.

Tom Moore, of Canada, thought war would end when manufacturers and financiers were conscripted as well as other men. He asserted Canada would not consider herself automatically involved in any war in which Great Britain was engaged.

LEADER WIRES RECOGNITION

HON. DR. TOLMIE SAYS SELECTIONS OF CITY CONVENTION ARE ALONE ACCEPTED

Messrs. Beatty, Hayward, Hinchliffe and Twigg Are Only Recognized Candidates

In order to correct any misapprehension on the part of the public, the Victoria Conservative Association wishes it to be clearly understood that the only candidates receiving the support and recognition as the official candidates of the Conservative party in this city and the province generally, for the election to be held on July 18 next, are Messrs. Beatty, Hayward, Hinchliffe and Twigg. These gentlemen were all nominated at the Conservative convention duly called and held in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium at Victoria on Tuesday, June 19, 1928.

The electorate is therefore urged to vote the straight Conservative ticket only, thus preventing any attempts to divide the support to which these gentlemen are entitled.

Mr. Fred C. Elliott, president of the Victoria Conservative Association, has just received a wire from the Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie, leader of the Conservative party for the province of British Columbia, dispatched from Fernie, B.C., emphasizing this situation. The telegram reads as follows:

"Fernie, B.C., July 3, 1928.

"Fred Elliott,
"President Conservative Association, Victoria, B.C.

"A Conservative convention having been called at Victoria at which four candidates were selected to contest that riding at the coming provincial election, they are the recognized representatives of the party and no others have my support.

"S. F. TOLMIE."

In British Columbia Court of Appeal

Rex vs. Sutherland: The accused in this case was convicted on a charge of selling intoxicating liquor and fined the sum of $300. She appealed to the County Court Judge, who allowed the appeal and quashed the conviction, and ordered the fine and costs to be refunded. After the arrest and before the hearing in the Magistrate's court, the accused was allowed out on cash bail of $300, which was deposited by a friend, and on the conviction this amount was converted into a fine, and it was paid over to the City of Rossland. The conversion of the bail into a fine was apparently agreed to by the parties. There was some question as to the fine being paid under protest, or whether the amount was in the nature of a deposit. The Crown appealed, and the Court of Appeal (the Chief Justice dissenting), dismissed the appeal and upheld the quashing of the conviction and the order to refund made by the County Judge. Mr. Alexis Martin for the Crown; Mr. H. R. Bray for the respondent (accused).

Hazelden vs. Hunter et al: Plaintiff in this case sued for balance of salary, $275, as accountant for the defendants, and $170, a month's salary in lieu of notice. Defendants offered him a cheque for the $276 endorsed with a receipt in full payment. He refused to accept it, and later defendants mailed it to him. He did not return the cheque, acknowledged receipt of the letter, but not of the cheque, and claimed the full amount. There was not any evidence that the cheque was cashed; it could not have been cashed without endorsement. Thereupon, he sued. The $276 was not paid into court. The trial judge gave judgment for the $276, and dismissed the claim for $170 salary in lieu of notice, with costs against the defendants. Defendants appealed on the grounds that the trial judge was wrong in treating the cheque as a tender instead of an acceptance of the amount due, and should not have awarded costs against the defendants, and should have apportioned the costs on the basis of the judgment for the plaintiff, and his failure on the issue as to salary in lieu of notice. Judgment was concluded and judgment reserved. Mr. H. W. R. Moore for appellants; Mr. Lowe for respondent.

J. D. ROCKEFELLER III EMPLOYEE OF LEAGUE

GENEVA, July 4.—League of Nations officials today issued an appeal stating that they were anxious to make the coming of John D. Rockefeller, third, to hold a temporary job with the League information section, entirely simple and natural. It was hoped that the press and public would do nothing to embarrass the Princeton student in the fulfillment of his duties.

The officials asked for co-operation to avoid any exaggerated or wrong impression of a "fine chap." It was added that his salary would be commensurate with his work and the general League scale.

GARDENS IMPRESS EASTERN EDITOR

Mr. Herbert Hodgins, Editor of Canadian Homes and Gardens, Visits Here

Mr. and Mrs. J. Herbert Hodgins, of Toronto, have been in Victoria for the past few days, guests at the Empress Hotel. Mr. Hodgins is the editor of Mayfair and Canadian Homes and Gardens. He has been touring Western Canada with a view to gathering material for the magazines mentioned, which are two of the thirty-five publications issued by the Maclean Publishing Company of Toronto.

Mr. Hodgins expresses himself as charmed with Victoria. "All across Canada," he says, "I have never seen such bloom. Every garden and home I have had the pleasure of visiting is well worth stories and pictures, and as for the delightful vista which one meets upon entering Victoria, it is refreshingly different to that of any other city I have seen either in Canada or the United States."

Mr. and Mrs. Hodgins were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Butchart on Sunday, and were enthusiastic over the garden and the house, and the wonderful hospitality of the owners. "In this selfish world such unbounded altruism is almost bewildering," said Mr. Hodgins. "We had been told by hundreds of persons of Butchart's Gardens and the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Butchart in throwing all this beauty open to the public, but I was not prepared to see such a wealth of gorgeous bloom, such a diversified and extensive garden, or such happy crowds enjoying it all."

At Hatley Park Mr. Hodgins was especially charmed with the water views, showing the streams, the lakes and waterfalls, and the seascape as seen from the terrace. He was much impressed with the long drive through the timber, the dell garden and the beauty of the house itself. With Mr. Fairbairn as cicerone, he was shown Government House and grounds. In his opinion the latter are the finest of any gubernatorial gardens in Canada, and the panorama of sea and mountains which form their setting are unsurpassed anywhere in the world.

Other gardens viewed were the "highland" garden of the Hatches at Gonsales, the gardens of Mrs. Hugo Beaven and Mrs. Curtis Sampson, and many more throughout Foul Bay, Oak Bay, Rockland Avenue, the Uplands, and other residential districts of Victoria.

VENIZELOS FORMS GREEK MINISTRY

ATHENS, July 3. — The new cabinet of Greece was completed tonight by Eleutherios Venizelos, summoned from retirement by President Kondouriotis, after the Zamis cabinet had resigned because of a crisis in the financial policy of the country.

M. Venizelos formed his new ministry, with two exceptions, from his own party, the Liberals. The exceptions are Constantine Zavitsanos and M. Christomanos, and they were members of the Greek revolutionary cabinet in 1922, although they are now classed as Independents. M. Zavitsanos was named as Minister of the Interior, and his 1922 colleague was appointed Minister of Communications.

CIVILIZED FOODS DEATH TO SAVAGES

Cancer, tuberculosis, pneumonia are unknown to real savages who eat natural, alkali-forming foods. Dr. Robt. G. Jackson shows why in his 428 page book, "HOW TO BE ALWAYS WELL." Dr. Jackson wrecked his own body by eating acid-forming foods of civilization so that nineteen years ago the great Sir Wm. Osler gave him only four months to live. But he did not die. Instead he invented Roman Meal, a highly alkali-forming food and lived entirely upon it for two whole years, at which time he was entirely well. At sixty-eight he is still 100% physically perfect and gets younger each year. The secret? The 25% flaxin in Roman Meal, which no other food can ever contain, because it is owned and controlled by Roman Meal Co., Ltd.

Roman Meal can be eaten uncooked or off the ice, and the alkaline properties keep the blood "cool" in Summer, and constipation cannot obtain where sufficient Roman Meal is eaten.

Write for new uncooked Roman Meal recipe and his free booklet, "HOW TO KEEP WELL," to Dr. Robt. G. Jackson, 315 Vine Ave., Toronto (9), Ont. (Advt.)

PARTY TACTICS ARE ASSAILED

MRS. SMITH SAYS CONSERVATIVES EXPLOIT HUMAN SUFFERINGS

Mr. Norman Whittaker Pledges Support to Maternity Benefits and State Health Insurance

"The Conservatives are exploiting the sorrows and sufferings of those who are receiving the benefits of the mothers' pensions in order to get at the Liberal Government which passed that legislation. Mr. Twigg, Mr. Pooley, Mr. Hinchliffe, and several other speakers have been making the mothers' pensions a political football, and their action is certainly an insult," stated Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, Liberal candidate in Esquimalt, in addressing a gathering of two hundred women yesterday afternoon at the Lake Hill Community Centre in the interests of the candidature of Mr. Norman W. Whittaker, Liberal standard bearer in Saanich riding.

Mrs. Smith told her hearers that 1,300 women were receiving mothers' pensions, and that 3,375 children were being assisted by this measure. The social legislation enacted by the Liberal Government, including the Equal Guardianship of Infants' Act, Testators' Family Maintenance Act, Mothers' Pensions and Minimum Wage Acts, were proving of great benefit and value to the people of British Columbia.

The speaker said that she had yet to hear of any social legislation passed by the present administration that had been voiced before by the Conservatives. While the Conservatives claimed credit for giving the franchise to women, it was the Liberals who placed on the statute books the legislation which gave the women the vote.

RETURN TO POWER

"The MacLean Government is going back in power just as surely as we are sitting here today. In Norman Whittaker you have a fine, clean-cut young man, a candidate which any constituency could be proud of," Mrs. Smith said, amid cheers.

Mr. Norman W. Whittaker paid tribute to Mrs. Smith for her signal services to the womanhood of the province. "Mrs. Smith is waging a strenuous battle and, I believe, a winning fight in this campaign. After July 18, Mrs. Smith, and not Mr. Pooley, will be the member for Esquimalt."

The candidate said that further progressive legislation contemplated by the Liberals provided for maternity benefits and state health insurance, and he pledged himself, if elected to the Legislature, to sponsor "this splendid piece of legislation," not only on the platform but on the floor of the House. If elected, he would serve all sections and all people in Saanich riding to the best of his ability, he said.

PROUD OF RECORD

Mrs. Jean McN. Beckett, who presided, said: "We Liberals have every reason to be proud of the record of our party, and can shout it from the housetops." Mrs. Pilgrim, in conveying greetings from Victoria Liberals, said the Government took charge of the province in 1916 under great odds, and had brought British Columbia to an enviable position. Mr. A. T. Weight, extending felicitations from Esquimalt Liberals, claimed the Conservative Party was insulting the intelligence of the voters by drawing any kind of a red herring across the trail, because, he said, they did not have anything constructive to offer the electors.

During the meeting, vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. Ellis, of the Schubert Club, and Mrs. Annie Holmes, the accompanist being Mrs. Chapman. Tea was served following the addresses. Little Mary Greenwood, on behalf of the Saanich Liberal women, presented Mrs. Smith with a lovely floral bouquet. The gathering closed with cheers for Mrs. Smith and Mr. Whittaker.

Suspension of City Workmen Is Confirmed

Suspension of seven civic employees because they refused to work overtime last Friday night was authorized yesterday by Mayor J. Carl Pendray before he left for Seattle. The Mayor signed the temporary suspension orders yesterday noon.

It appears that seven employees of the public works department were transferred to the waterworks department in order to clean out the Smith's Hill Reservoir last Friday. When they were asked to work overtime they refused.

The reason given, it is understood, is that the men had been working on the Douglas Street paving job from 4 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the evening, with half an hour for breakfast and lunch, both on the Thursday and Friday. They refused to work overtime because of the long hours they had already put in. Nearly all the men employed have seen long service with the city.

City Engineer Preston offered the usual overtime pay, but two thirteen-hour working periods in succession proved too much for some. Others claim they did not hear the order to work overtime.

SIR D. YOULE DIES

ST. ALBANS, Eng., July 4.—Sir David Youle, reputed to be the wealthiest Briton, and credited with being worth ₹11,000,000, died here last night.

Although he was the head of a great Indian mercantile firm, and the director of several banks, he was scarcely known to the public. He lived a simple life in comparative seclusion, spending most of his time in India, where he dwelt in rooms above his office in Calcutta.

MODERN CATILINE CONSPIRACY

Premier MacLean says if he is returned to power he will sell the P.G.E. Railway (presumably to the Canadian National Railways). He says he will do more than that. He says he will obtain the return to the Province of the railway lands and the Peace River lands, with an annual revenue of four hundred thousand dollars attached to them. He says he will do these things because he is on friendly terms with the Dominion Government. He says he does not believe Hon. Dr. Tolmie can do these things because he is not on friendly terms with the Dominion Government.

These are interesting and significant statements, for they imply that the interests of a discredited and moribund Government are considered by the Dominion Government of more importance than the interests of the Province of British Columbia; that a sinister bargain has been made between a discredited and moribund Provincial Government and a partizan Dominion Government, under which another term of office will be purchased at the expense of the public for a discredited and moribund Provincial Government.

We wonder whether Dr. MacLean realizes that he has made a shameless and indefensible statement. We wonder whether Dr. MacLean realizes that his statement is sufficient to utterly condemn not only his own Government but also to utterly condemn the Dominion Government. We wonder whether Dr. MacLean realizes that he has exposed the most iniquitous political conspiracy ever hatched in the history of the Dominion of Canada. We do not believe that even the Government of Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King will become a party to such a scheme of barter and sale.

AN ADAPTABLE OFFICIAL

We do not know who employs and pays the so-called British Columbia Fruit Commissioner; but anyone surely would be justified in assuming that the said commissioner is either an ardent free trader or is employed and paid by interests that are not deeply concerned about the marketing and sale of British Columbia fruit. Possibly as an ardent free trader he may be interested in the marketing and sale of American fruit and in providing fruit at "dumped" prices to the fruit consumers of the Prairies. At any rate the Fruit Commissioner frankly tells the strawberry growers of British Columbia that if they have failed to sell their products on the Prairies at a profit, that is their fault. They have not produced the right kind of strawberries. Therefore they are told to dig up the plants they have been cultivating and to substitute a plant the commissioner recommends.

The remedy suggested is drastic and doubtless will prove expensive to the fruitgrowers, but that is a matter of no direct concern to the commissioner. His chief concern is to offer excuses for the conduct of the Government, which probably will not overlook the value of the service he has rendered it.

One fact is apparent. It is that it is not safe to entrust an unfriendly Government with the administration of a flexible tariff. The tariff must be made fixed and unalterable. That is the only hope for the fruitgrowers of British Columbia.

ALLEGED PUBLIC APATHY

A gentleman who was once an ardent politician and at present occupies an important public position stopped a wayfarer on the street a day or two ago and wanted to know how the elections were going. The person addressed said he did not know how the elections were going and doubted whether anybody, with possibly the exception of the Hon. the Attorney-General, the Hon. Ian Mackenzie, or Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, was quite sure how the elections were going. You see there are so few mere mortals endowed with the gift of omniscience.

But if neither the gentleman who asked the question nor the person who could not answer it knew anything whatever about the possible result of the elections, both the questioner and the person questioned were agreed upon one thing: that thus far the election campaign had proved very dull and that the average man or woman in the street did not appear to be particularly interested in the progress of it however interested everybody eventually might be in the result of it.

The dullness of the election campaign may possibly be attributed to the appeal of the Attorney-General and the members of the Government to the electors of the province to consider the administration as a board of directors selected to conduct the business of the province in a business-like way. We all know how the business of a board of directors is conducted, unless some shareholder in the business has the temerity to rise up in the meeting and ask some impertinent or embarrassing questions. The proceedings had been "all cut and dried" and everything was going along smoothly, pleasantly and harmoniously, if somewhat dully and drearily, until the disturber of the peace arose and "wanted to know you know."

It is the business of the chairmen at meetings of boards of directors to prevent embarrassing questions from being asked. It is the business of the chairmen at political meetings to prevent embarrassing questions from being asked. If the chairmen cannot stop the mouths of impertinent inquisitors, unseemly demonstrations may take place and the dignity of the proceedings may be disturbed. Then other untoward results may follow. Personalities may be indulged in and an "unclean" election campaign may follow.

The interested advocates of a "clean" election campaign do not want anything said about the record of the Government. They say "let the dead past bury its dead. Do not sit in judgment upon what we have done; support us upon what we promise to do." Take a large and generous view of the political situation and give the board of directors a commission to carry on the business of the province for another term.

But "still waters run deep." Although the election campaign thus far has been conducted with great tranquility compared with the raging torrents of public enthusiasm which roared through the land in other days, the people are taking a deep interest in the election and there is an under-current of public hostility to the Government which will become manifest when the ballots are counted on the evening of the 18th of July. The Leader of the Opposition's great personal popularity has been made apparent during his tour of the province. Wherever he has appeared he has been hailed with enthusiasm by large audiences. The public feeling everywhere is that if the business of the province should be conducted as a board of directors conducts the business entrusted to its charge, the Hon. Dr. Tolmie is a safe man for chairman of that board at this crisis in our affairs.

FLAGS AND PATRIOTISM

Love of country is said by an Englishman to be one of the characteristics of the American people. There is one day of the year in which the love of the American for his country is expressed in the singing of patriotic songs, the making of patriotic speeches, the explosion of fireworks and the flying of flags. The American people have just celebrated that day in the customary way. The speeches are not just what they used to be, but the songs are sung as enthusiastically as ever; the fireworks are not quite what they used to be, (they do not kill quite so many young people), but the flag is still an object of public adoration, for it is the emblem of a free and sovereign people. The Englishman is not accustomed to the American way of expressing his love of country, but he approves of it; for it promotes the spirit of patriotism, which is a good thing for any country, and carries with it an assurance for the permanence of the country's institutions.

Many Canadians believe that a distinctive Canadian flag would be a good thing for Canada because such an emblem would prove a stimulant to the patriotism of the people; but the British flag is not less inspiring in its appeal to the patriotism of the Canadian people than the Stars and Stripes is to the patriotism of the American people, and it is just as much the flag of the Canadian people as it is the flag of what, in the limited acceptance of the term, is called the British people. In process of time it may prove a source of inspiration to a greater number of people in Canada than in any other part of the world.

A miserable cynic writes to suggest that if anyone with a vote and influence wants a road built to the moon, cost-plus or day labor, now is the time to put in his application. Time is flying, and the 18th of July will be upon us if we do not grab the enemy by the forelock.

THE FIRST ATLANTIC FLIGHT

A dispatch from Washington, announcing that Col. Lindbergh would greet the members of the crew of the Bremen, said that "the hand of the first man to fly a plane across the Atlantic from west to east" would clasp the hands of the first men to cross it from east to west.

Lindbergh is a magnificent man and a famous flyer, but let's not as out of national pride, give him credit for things he never did. We just make ourselves offensive to other people.

He was not the first man to fly across the Atlantic from west to east. Capt. John Alcock and Lieut. Arthur Brown flew across in 1919. Their flight is famous and the British are rightly proud of them. There is no sense in claiming for Lindbergh a record that isn't his. He himself would be the first to give Alcock and Brown the credit.—Seattle Star.

THE "ARMY" BONNET

A London, England, magazine says: "The Salvation Army bonnet, so familiar in our streets, is not, after all, to be abolished. It was first invented because the founder of the Salvation Army wished his women soldiers to be easily distinguished as soldiers. It had a deeper coal scuttle brim in those days, which was perhaps as well, for it protected the "lasses' " faces from the garbage and soot which hooligans flung at them."

One cannot altogether blame the writer for supposing there would be some alteration; it is this craze for 0000 size that does it. We see that the Mennonite conference has declined to make any alteration in the 400-year-old style of their female headgear. Nothing like making a style and keeping to it. It is not a question of ugliness, sisters, it's a matter of distinction from the world, isn't it?

When bad men combine, the good must associate; else they will fall one by one, an unpitied sacrifice in a contemptible struggle.—Edmund Burke.

People are unwilling to take hard knocks for nothing, but never to sell ribands cheap.—John Ruskin.

THE PROVINCIAL ELECTION

Sir,—If Mr. J. W. deB. Farris will tell the public the true story of what caused his resignation from the position of Attorney-General in the Liberal Government, the public will learn of one reason why this discredited Government should be turned out. Many of us have not forgotten the charges made by both sides of the House, the insistence on a public inquiry and the impassioned pleading of the late Premier Oliver to have the Conservative motion for a public inquiry voted down, and he, on his word of honor as the Premier, would cause an inquiry to be made. Two Liberal members asked if they understood the Premier to say that if the Conservative motion were voted down the Premier would have an inquiry made, and upon the Premier's repeated assurance, the Liberal members voted down the public inquiry. A few days afterwards the Attorney-General resigned and no public inquiry was held. But there was a report made by Col. Ross Napier which the late Premier suppressed on the ground that it was a private inquiry. Why?

Are the four Victoria Liberal candidates prepared to unequivocally support the record of the Liberal administration during the past twelve years, and will Mr. Whittaker also give his support?

I will give one instance to start with, and ask the five candidates if they approve of the purchase, with public money, of a liquor warehouse for $150,000 when a real estate board had valued the property at $65,000. It was known as the Campbell warehouse affair, and it was reported that the surplus money went to buy the newspaper then known as The World, published in Vancouver, and this newspaper was afterwards converted into a Liberal organ. Dr. MacLean was a member of the Cabinet. Did he signify his disapproval? Did he protest? The fact that he did not resign in protest, as any man of moral character would have done, shows that he condoned it, and is not fit to rule this rich province.

The record of twelve years of the Liberal administration has been a long one of mismanagement and scandals. Some of us can still well remember the many instances, and some have drawers full of cuttings of the various reports. But before tiring the public with more of this, let us first hear from the five Liberal candidates if they are prepared to unequivocally support the record of the Liberal administration.

Mr. Dewar mentioned the tender solicitation and sympathies of the Liberal Government for the working men. I do not think the working men have forgotten the occasion of the "salary grab," when the Cabinet Ministers each grabbed $2,500 a year more for their own salaries on the ground of the increase in cost of living, while at the same time reducing the wages of the working men on the ground that cost of living was cheaper.

When a political party has blatantly declared that "to the victors belongs the spoils," and have, during twelve years of heavy taxation, spent over two hundred and fifty millions of dollars, with very little to show for it, and having driven native sons across the border to find a living because none could be found at home, adding insult to injury by calling them "dead ones," such a Government must be turned out, because the country cannot afford to keep it in.

Mr. Dewar is reported as saying that we cannot afford to swap horses while crossing a stream, but what if you have been captured by bandits who were taking you across a stream of despair, and a body of policemen comes along; would you not swap horses?

So far as the P.G.E. deal and the Peace River lands are concerned, we have heard of this P.G.E. deal during the 1924 election when it was an English syndicate that was being whispered about. As to the Peace River lands, if we have justice on our side, the Dominion Government will have to return the land whichever party is in power.

H. HASTINGS.

COWICHAN RIVER LOG FLUME

Sir,—We cannot exist on fine air and scenery, neither can we live without them. Fine mountains, rivers and lakes with trees, wild flowers, wild animals, birds and fish are necessary to the well-being and happiness of a civilization such as ours.

Here on Vancouver Island we had them in abundant measure and we still spend much money and energy in shouting about them in the press, the publicity bureau, etc. But they are fast disappearing. The high lead logger and other agencies employed in the "development" of our forests are fast taking their toll. The once beautiful Cowichan Lake Road is no more. Nothing now on both sides but a mass of burned stumps and debris. The lower Campbell River country, including the Campbell River Falls, is fast becoming a wilderness of stumps. Soon the country about Sproat and Great Central Lakes will be a general ruin. Strathcona Park is itself more or less a myth, just this last year permission having been given to an outside company to practically ruin the whole Buttles Lake area, once destined to be one of the finest recreational sections on the Island.

And now an attempt is being made to get permission to ruin the beautiful Cowichan River itself through the installation of a log flume—for ruined it will be if this flume is put in—the first mile and a half of the river dredged and full of logs and the remainder of the river dry during a big part of the year.

And what will this flume do? Just this. It may enable the owners of the various logging companies (a great many, if not the majority of whom do not even belong in this country), to receive a slight increase in their dividends. And what do the people of the province get? A devastated river, once one of the finest in the country, and competition for their own railroad, the Canadian National. The logging companies operating in the Cowichan Lake area are already served by two railroads, the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National, and there is no legitimate excuse whatsoever for this flume.

It is about time the people of this province and of this Island in particular took a stand against such illegitimate business as this, or very soon they will wake up and find they have nothing left. If the Government won't support a constructive and sane policy of conservation, we had better get one that will.

Now, you fishermen, hunters, campers and good people who want something beside burnt stumps and devastated lakes, rivers and mountains left on this Island—get busy! The logging interests have the most of it, but we want just a little left for ourselves and those that come after us.

G. M. LYNES.

REAL FIGHTING INSTINCT

A fighter's subconscious mind is an important part of his ring equipment. Take Tommy Loughran, light-heavyweight champion of the world, as a case in point, says the July Fight Stories Magazine.

In the very first round of his bout with Leo Lomski, the Aberdeen Assassin, Tom was knocked down with a smashing right-hand punch to the jaw. He didn't just fall. He did a half-somersault and landed on the back of his neck. It seemed certain that he had been knocked out.

Loughran arose at "eight" and boxed carefully until near the finish of the round, when Lomski knocked him down again with the same sort of a blow. Tommy managed to get to his feet and last through until the bell. In the succeeding fourteen rounds he made a punching bag of the Aberdeen Assassin and won as he pleased.

The interesting part of the story is the fact that he was so shaken by the first blow that he didn't know he had been dropped a second time until he was told about it in his dressing-room after the fight. As a matter of fact, he was in a complete daze until the fourth round and had no idea of what had happened previously.

Everything Loughran did in those unremembered rounds was the result of instinct. He blocked and led and countered with all the superb grace for which he is famous, and yet he didn't know he was doing those things. It is hard to believe, but it is true, nevertheless, as you can verify some day when you meet Tommy.

KILLING SONG BIRDS

Sir,—F. H. Wilson, who lives on the B. X. Ranch near Vernon, saw an old crow feeding its young—live young song birds. He shot the crow and it vomited out the young bird. This was on June 22, 1928.

One of the greatest authorities on birds in America states that magpies will pick out the eyes of the young song birds, and the magpies destroy a large percentage of game birds.

If one crow destroys twenty-nine insectivorous birds a year, how many insects would the insectivorous birds kill if the crow hadn't killed them first?

E. D. WATTS.

Vernon, B.C., July 1, 1928.

COMPARISONS IN COSTS

Sir,—Mr. J. W. deB. Farris, K.C., Vancouver, in his Saanich speech, referring to roads, follows the bad example of Dr. Sutherland by quoting wrong figures.

Mr. Farris stated that "from 1911 in 1916 under the Conservative Government the average cost per year for roads was $3,600,000, while the cost for the last five years under Liberal rule was $3,561,000." It is passing strange that his figures for the Conservatives are near enough to be correct, but those for the Liberals are woefully out, as the public records show. In the five years 1911-12 to 1915-16 (Conservative) the official record shows the expenditure on roads, trails and bridges at $18,-383,059.93; yearly average, $3,676,-611.95; while under Liberal rule for the five years 1922-23 to 1926-27 the expenditure was $22,257,493.31; yearly average, $4,451,498.66; or a yearly difference of $774,886.68 in favor of the Conservatives.

Where are the 5,000 miles of new roads and bridges Mr. Farris states were built by the Liberals. Apparently he is not familiar with the facts. He doubtless may refer me to "British Columbia Progress." Well, the best I can say of that wonderful pamphlet is just this, that if the other figures quoted and diagrams shown are as misleading as those on page 65, the money lenders to the province would be well advised to have the statements in the pamphlet verified before making further loans.

Here are some interesting figures that cover the same five-year periods above mentioned. The Conservatives for their five years estimated their expenditures for all services in the province at $70,084,722.66. Of this amount they spent $65,599,548.09, thus saving $4,449,174.57, while the Liberals in their five years estimated their expenditures at $96,822,521.58, and spent $105,966,827.27, an overexpenditure of $9,144,305.69. These overexpenditures of the Liberal Government show conclusively that the time has come for a change in the handling of our public business.

COBBLE HILL MEETING

Sir,—Please publish this open letter to Mr. J. Stuart Yates, chairman of meeting held by Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith at Shawnigan on June 29.

Sir,—It was boasted by the paid workers of Mrs. M. E. Smith that all attempts at discussion by the residents of district would be squashed at the above mentioned meeting. You were brought from Langford to carry that threat into effect. You partially succeeded.

You opened with a request not to delay the airing of public matters by indulging in personalities, and then allowed Mr. Ian Mackenzie of Vancouver to waste upwards of fifteen minutes in "nothing else but," as the saying is.

Now personalities may be of two kinds, viz.: laudatory and disparaging, which, however, are equal in wasting time. It was natural that Mr. Ian Mackenzie and Mrs. M. E. Smith, the two former members from Vancouver City, should be mutual admirers, but the audience might have regarded them with more respect if their political record had received the endorsement of their late constituents.

As you know the burning question was the fitness of Mrs. Smith as a candidate. Her silence during the exposure of the Vancouver liquor gang led to the conclusion that her lips had been sealed. Hands may became soiled either by neglect or dabbling in dirt, and the latter is more wholesome of the two.

As disclosed before the Public Accounts Committee, a Government liquor deal which was traced very close to Mrs. Smith, involved a loss to the province of $13,620. She had an opportunity of satisfactorily explaining her position therein and failed at Cobble Hill.

The greatest political bluffer in the province was imported to exculpate her.

Mr. Mackenzie boldly stated that he was on the Public Accounts Committee that dealt with the liquor scandals and that Mrs. Smith's son had there sworn that he had no transactions whatever in liquor with the Government. When asked if he had a transcript of the evidence, he said yes, and flourished a bunch of papers. He was requested to turn to the evidence of Mr. Urquhart, Government warehouseman, who swore that he had placed an order for 250 cases of Vat 69 through Jack Smith. After turning over his papers, Mr. Mackenzie said that Mrs. Smith's son denied it. Then being confronted with the fact that Jack Smith had never appeared before the Public Accounts Committee, he admitted that the papers he had attempted to delude the audience with had reference to the Gauthier case. The bluffer! or worse.

Mr. Mackenzie was asked if he would further permit his veracity to be tested. No reply.

Now Mr. Yates, as chairman of the meeting, you may say and truthfully, that this account is not letter perfect, but the great majority of the audience will vouch that it is substantially correct.

TREVOR KEENE.

Cobble Hill, B.C., June 30, 1928.

COWICHAN RIVER FLUME

Sir,—I know that a wish has been expressed in your paper that at this present period no letters are desired except those with a political aspect. Perhaps this has a political aspect and perhaps not; at any rate. In your issue of July 1 appeared a long description of a flume that is to be constructed by the Cowichan Valley Transportation Company from Cowichan Lake to tidewater.

It appears that this flume will start one and a half miles below the lake; that a dam will be constructed at that point. The storage reservoir is to be just above the dam and forty-four acres are to be flooded. Now, I have fished the Cowichan River for twenty-two years and in the old days it was said to be the best river in British Columbia for trout. A fish hatchery has been constructed and operated for years by the Government at apparently the very point where it is contemplated flooding the flats. The Cowichan River has for years been advertised as a great fishing river, drawing fishermen from all parts of the world.

Now, what effect is this dam and flume going to have on the fishing interests of the Cowichan River? As is well known, in the Autumn the river is full of spawning salmon, many of which go up into the lake and the creeks running into the lake to spawn. How is the dam going to effect the salmon industry on the Coast?

And in a hot, dry Summer will there be any water in the river at all? I don't think so. I think the river will consist of a few stagnant pools joined, perhaps, by a tiny trickle.

And what about the hotel and camp site proprietors that have invested their all in the hotels, etc., and those who supply the hotels, whose patrons consist almost entirely of fishermen, with a large part of the district flooded and the river for part of the year almost dry? It is very apparent there will be few, if any, fish to be caught on the Cowichan River, and the hatchery conceivably will have to be abandoned. And the same thing applies to the booming ground on Cowichan Bay, which, it is stated, is to be the place where the logs are to be assembled. On the north side, which every salmon fisher knows, is far and away the best place for the large spring salmon.

How is this going to affect the hotelkeepers at the bay, the majority of whose patrons are salmon fishers? Apparently ruin! And why all this?

As stated in the article referred to: In order that the already wealthy logging companies may save $15,000,000 in the next twenty years.

There are already two railways carrying out logs from that district, once so beautiful and now a scene of utter desolation; surely that is enough.

And now this is where the hopeless inconsistency comes in. We maintain a Publicity Bureau at a huge cost, cracking up the wonderful scenery and fishing to be found on the Island and luring tourists here by every means in its power, and yet at the same time the Government are granting concessions to people whose sole object is to destroy these very attractions which the Publicity Bureau is advertising.

T. L. THORPE-DOUBBLE.

The Rhyming Optimist

By Aline Michaelis

THE BEST OF HIM

Men loved him greatly, for they know
The best of him was good and true,
Incapable of any wrong
And happy as the robin's song.

And yet, despite their faith and trust,
The best of him was stained with rust,
A sword unused; it was a light
Too shaded to defy the night.

Only sometimes a gleam, a spark
Revealed that presence through the dark . . .
Had he but willed it so, his best
Could have illumined all the rest.

News is the unusual, and it has now reached the point where the Prince of Wales has to fall off a horse three times in one afternoon to get on the first page, but he can do it all right.

CHERRY CROP HIT

Unusual Feature of Baptist Convention

ONE of the enjoyable features at the Baptist Congress in Toronto, not on the programme, was the entertainment afforded by the cowboy songs of a quartette from Texas. Reading left to right, they are: "Shorty," Rev. A. Novak, bass; "Coon," Rev. J. K. Simmons, baritone; "Weary," Rev. R. A. Butler, lead; "Dad," Rev. J. L. Vaughan, tenor. They are not really cowboys, of course, but they themselves point out that what they want to do is show something, by their singing, of the old-time Texas of cowboy days.

FOUR ISSUES BEING FOUGHT IN ELECTION

Mr. C. H. Dickie, M.P., Speaks on Behalf of Dr. Tolmie in Ward Seven, Saanich

CAPT. THAIN ON RECENT INQUIRY

"There are four issues in this campaign. First, whether or not the people want a government in British Columbia controlled by an irresponsible and sectional minority; second, to have the fiscal policy of the present Government brought about by political expediency; third, whether corruption and debauchery of the Provincial Treasury is to be condemned or condoned, and fourth, whether or not the people of this Province want to be usurped by political machinery," declared Mr. R. A. Wootton in addressing a large audience in the Obed Avenue Hall last night, held in the interest of Hon. S. F. Tolmie, leader of the Conservative party. The meeting was presided over by Mr. E. Murphy.

Mr. C. H. Dickie, M.P., outlined the national Conservative policy, and pointed out that only by applying a tariff against importation of American manufactured goods, could the people of Canada hope to resuscitate the industrial life of Canada, provide employment for those already here, and eventually encourage the Canadians who had crossed the line to return to their homes once more.

P.G.E. PROMISE

Capt. H. S. Thain referred to Dr. MacLean's promise, "The P.G.E. is to be sold." "I do not believe it any more than I can believe that Premier MacLean has redeemed his pledge made to Prince George in 1924 that the P.G.E. would be extended to Prince George if the Liberal Government was returned to power. The line has not been extended one yard since the Liberals were elected to office in 1924 by only thirty per cent of the electorate and at that only by manipulation of the absentee vote."

Capt. H. S. Thain deprecated the enacting of legislation that permitted a government to appoint its own Royal Commission, their own judge, jury, make its own charge and frame its own indictment.

BRAZEN EFFRONTERY

"Is it any reason to wonder why the Liberal Government has been exonerated from all charges that have been brought against it? They have the temerity, the brazen effrontery to come before you and ask you to endorse them simply because their own Royal Commission has exonerated them."

The speaker also dealt with many other issues in the campaign. He declared that one could not get a job without having the "red card of Liberalism." He said that the only way to get justice in their courts was to engage a Liberal lawyer. He discounted the many pieces of social legislation that Liberals took credit for and upon which they sought re-election.

News and Notes of Realty in Victoria and District

By H. D. PATTERSON

The pleasure experienced during the convention of the Pacific Northwest Real Estate Association held here in Victoria in 1918 still lives in the memory of those who attended it, and the forthcoming convention of this association, which will be held here this month, commencing on July 17, promises to provide still greater pleasures and benefits to the delegates, their wives and families, who are coming from other parts of British Columbia and the States of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana. The local realtors working on entertainment, finance and hotel registration committees have been bending every effort to make the event an all-round success. The entertainment committee especially, with the assistance of a local ladies' committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Alfred Carmichael, has arranged a series of events of outstanding merit, including luncheons, teas, a garden party and auto tours for visiting ladies.

The local entertainment programme also includes bathing beauty and perfect male contests, swimming and novelty contests, golf tournaments for men and women, dancing each night, and the annual banquet of the association.

Prominent on the programme for the business conferences will be conferences on salesmanship on each of the three days of the convention, to be conducted by Mr. A. John Berge, sales counsellor for the National Association of Real Estate Boards, who is coming here from Chicago for this purpose in the company of Mr. Henry G. Zander, the national president. Mr. Berge has been writing a series of articles on the subject of salesmanship in The National Real Estate Journal, which contains many valuable hints and suggestions, and his addresses are sure to be of the highest value to those attending. Addresses will also be given by leaders in the profession and other authorities on such subjects as Real Estate Appraising, City Planning and Zoning, Advertising, Controlling Factors in the Movement of Business Districts, and Increasing the Efficiency of the Real Estate Licensing Act.

The hotels registration committee reports already quite a large advance registration, with a brisk increase in the requests for accommodation during the last few days.

Mr. T. W. Zimmerman, executive secretary of the Pacific Northwest Association, is expected from Portland on July 7, and will remain in the city to complete arrangements, his headquarters being at the Empress Hotel, where the convention will be held.

A lull in inquiries and sales during the past two weeks is reported by brokers visited. Among transactions in business properties, the northwest corner of Fort and Vancouver Streets has been picked up by a well-known California investor. A lease of the Hartmann property at the northeast corner of Yates and Quadra Streets has been arranged by P. R. Brown & Sons to Tom Lumsden, the Royal Trust Company acting for the Hartmann Estate. Mrs. Hartmann, who is here at present from New York, states that this property has been owned by her family for forty years. One or two large residences have also changed hands.

The following sales were reported by brokers visited:

Pemberton & Son—A modern residence of ten rooms, with two and one-half acres of grounds, at Mount Tolmie, to a newcomer from the Old Country; ten acres at Somenos to a resident of the district; a large residential site on Mountjoy Avenue to a local buyer; two lots on the corner of Estevan Avenue and Beach Drive to a newcomer from Nanaimo, and three lots at Cadboro Bay to local buyers.

Christy, Hall & Co., Ltd.—A lot on Linden Avenue to a local purchaser who will build; also three lots on St. Lulie Street to local buyers.

Swinerton & Musgrave, Ltd.—A house of seven rooms on St. Andrew's Street to a buyer from Banff; lots in South Saanich to local buyers; also two acres with a small house, in the Cloverdale district, to a local buyer.

NEW MINISTER TO BE INDUCTED

Rev. S. T. Galbraith Will Be Installed as Minister of St. Aidan's United

Rev. S. T. Galbraith, B.A., B.D., who preached last Sunday at St. Aidan's United Church, Mount Tolmie, will be formally inducted into the pastorate of that congregation this evening, by the Presbytery of Victoria, under the presidency of Rev. W. A. Guy, chairman of the Presbytery. Rev. Hugh Nixon will give the charge to the minister, and Rev. J. G. Bompas will address the congregation.

Mr. Galbraith is one of the younger men of the United Church ministry in British Columbia, and has had an interesting career. He went overseas in 1915 from Westminster Hall, the Presbyterian theological college, in Vancouver, and after his return was graduated from that institution in 1922. He won a traveling scholarship, which gave him the opportunity of further training in Scotland. He is a graduate in Arts of the University of British Columbia, and received the degree of Bachelor of Divinity from Westminster Hall.

After a brief pastoral term at Okanagan Landing, Mr. Galbraith was called to Prince George in 1924, where he has had a very successful ministry of four and a half years. As convener of the home mission committee of the Cariboo Presbytery he has carried considerable responsibility in the development of the missions of the church in that extended area.

IDIOT'S "JOKE"

CAMDEN, N.J., July 4.—While William Ingram, forty, of this city, sat asleep on the porch of his home, a "practical joker" thrust a large firecracker between his teeth, lighted the fuse and fled. When the firecracker exploded, Ingram leaped to his feet and then dropped to the floor, writhing in agony. His shrieks brought neighbors. Physicians pronounced his condition serious. Police had no clue as to the identity of the practical joker.

SAYS LIBERAL REGIME BEST

MR. G. S. PEARSON DECLARES PROVINCE HAS BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION NOW

Mr. Norman W. Whittaker Praises Dr. MacLean—Mr. Mark W. Graham Addresses Saanich Meeting

"If there is one thing we have had in British Columbia during the past twelve years, it is a business administration—The present Liberal Government is the best government this country has ever had," Mr. George S. Pearson, Liberal candidate in Nanaimo, stated last night in St. Aidan's Hall, Mount Tolmie, in the interests of Mr. Norman W. Whittaker, Liberal standard bearer in Saanich constituency.

"Should we dismiss the administration because the Conservatives are crying 'It is time for a change'? I say no, unless we are prepared to pay for the change. What assurance have we that the Conservative party will do any better than the Liberal Government had done? Certainly their record in office in British Columbia prior to 1916 would not show it," he said.

"We have no right to experiment to please a party," the speaker asserted.

TWO ISSUES

Mr. Pearson stated there were two issues before the electors, the record of the Liberal administration during the last twelve years compared with the Conservative regime from 1903 to 1916, and the matter of the candidates. The electors knew the records of the two parties, and should decide on the merits of their achievements. In regard to the candidates in Saanich, the speaker warned, "Don't be blinded by the glamour of Dr. Tolmie's public career. Perhaps Mr. Whittaker can better represent your viewpoint than a man who is politically ambitious," he said.

The speaker declared that he last financial budget speech delivered by Dr. McLean in the Legislature was the most clear-cut, frank statement of the financial affairs of the province that could possibly have been made.

Mr. Norman W. Whittaker said Premier MacLean was a man of the people, and that he had risen to the post of Prime Minister by his unremitting hard work, industry and close attention to business. British Columbia suffered a severe loss in the death of Premier Oliver, but was singularly fortunate in having as his successor a man who had sterling qualities and marked ability.

SOCIAL LEGISLATION

The candidate reviewed the social legislation which had been placed on the statute books by the Liberal administration, and said that when the Conservatives were in power, from 1903 to 1916, practically no social legislation of any consequence was passed, except the Workmen's Compensation Act, which, however, was put into force by the Liberal Government.

"Mr. Pooley says we stole the mothers' pensions from his party, that the Conservatives at their 1919 convention endorsed mothers' pensions, and that the Liberals did not pass such legislation until the following year. It is easy for the Conservatives to pass resolutions, but it takes courage to carry into effect radical legislation. The Liberals put mothers' pensions into force, and I believe the electors will give them credit for it," Mr. Whittaker declared.

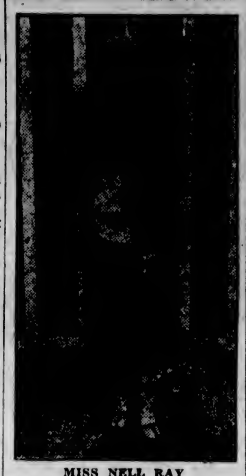

Mr. Mark W. Graham, one of the four Liberal candidates in Victoria, recalled that one of his first public activities in the city was in connection with the Kiwanis Club. He was one of the organizers, a charter member and the first president of that body. He was a director of the Chamber of Commerce for seven years, and served on the Jubilee Hospital directorate for a similar period.

MORE INDUSTRIES

Mr. Graham said that, if elected, one thing he would work for would be the establishment of more industries in the Province, so that "we will get the benefit here of the money which is being spent in the education of our boys and girls."

The speaker declared there had been a reduction in the provincial taxes of $3,000,000 in the last five years, and said there would be a further cut in taxes as the Province expands. He quoted from The Financial Post dated June 29, page twenty-four, an article headed "Figures reveal promising outlook for B.C." and said it clearly showed the prosperous condition of the Province. He stated Dr. MacLean was an efficient man, and very capable of handling the affairs of British Columbia.

STATEMENT ON HALF HOLIDAY IS CHALLENGED

the road would be completed from Squamish to Prince George without delay. Eight years later the Government leader was announcing that he was to enter into a contract with the Dominion Government to take over the railway.

In 1924, Premier Oliver had said that the P.G.E. would not be an issue at another election. If his Government was returned. In 1927, Premier Oliver, in speaking in the House, had said: "I can't give the dashed thing away."

"How much longer," asked Mr. Pooley, "is the electorate to be fooled by the P.G.E.?"

It was an attempt again to stampede the country on this old issue.

Mr. Pooley went into the history of the P.G.E. to show that the Conservatives left power with the proposition in a condition where the firm of Foley, Welch & Stewart were tied up by a hard and fast agreement, which obligated them to assume all the responsibility for the money that was advanced by the Government on this undertaking.

The Liberal Government, in spite of this, had come into power, and after various negotiations for some reason released the firm of all its obligations, took over the contracts, and undertook to complete and operate the road itself if necessary.

The record of the Government in this matter had been one of bungling from the start.

"SIMPLE JUSTICE"

Capt. H. S. Thain, M.C., speaking at the meeting in the interest of Mr. Pooley, called attention to the representations that were made by the Government that it ought to be returned to power because it was the only party that the Dominion Government would deal with in the settlement of the P.G.E. and in the return of the railway lands.

"The only thing that the people of British Columbia are asking of the Dominion Government is justice—nothing more and nothing less in these matters," said Capt. Thain.

He advised the election of a Conservative Government, and let Dr. Tolmie go to Ottawa and demand justice for the Province. What had this Government obtained? he asked.

The meeting concluded with cheers for Dr. Tolmie and Mr. Pooley.

DEATH REVEALS STRANGE STORY

Winnipeg Police Are Told B.C. Man Is Not Aboard Train But He Is Found in Berth

WINNIPEG, Man., July 4.—The strange story of a forty-three-year-old shell-shocked war victim, Percy E. Featherstone, a widower, who died in hospital here Monday night, was related to a coroner's jury here tonight.

Featherstone had suffered greatly since his return from the war, and at times he was mentally affected and had believed himself possessed of great wealth, a titled personage and the recipient of numerous decorations for distinglished service in France and Belgium.

Featherstone, who was engaged to be married to Miss Eleanor Mason, of Montreal, was taken ill while en route from Coquitlam, B.C., to Montreal. He was accompanied on the train by Miss Mason, his twenty-year-old son, Reginald, and a Miss Lillian Mason.

STRANGE PROMISE

Local police, advised of his illness and requested to make inquiry into his sanity, met the train upon its arrival here, but were told he was not aboard. A thorough search was made and he was found in his berth unconscious. Tonight the members of his party explained that they had made a solemn promise to Featherstone that should he be taken ill while on the train, the fact should not be divulged. He had often had such attacks before, declared Reginald Featherstone, on the witness stand tonight, on one occasion being unconscious for five days and no fears of a fatal seizure were entertained.

Removed by police to hospital, Featherstone died a few hours later without regaining consciousness.

The coroner's inquest was not concluded tonight, and adjournment was taken until next week.

Savidge Case Dropped

LONDON, July 4.—The Daily Mail tomorrow will say that the Home Secretary has decided not to prosecute the two policemen who arrested Sir Leon Money and Miss Irene Savidge in Hyde Park, thus giving rise to what is known as the Savidge case, nor will he, according to The Mail, take any disciplinary action against them.

Return of Resources

OTTAWA, July 4.—"The conference has been satisfactory," declared Premier Bracken tonight, referring to the deliberations that have been in progress for the past two days between members of the Manitoba Government and the Federal Government.

The purpose of the conference was to discuss the question of the return of the natural resources to the Province of Manitoba and to explore the various problems which this matter involves.

LEAGUE DRAFTS ANTI-WAR PACT

ON GERMAN INITIATIVE MODEL TREATY IS ADOPTED BY COMMITTEE

All Member States to Sign—Hope Is to Further Disarmament Conference Work

GENEVA, July 4.—As the result of German initiative, a model treaty for strengthening the means of preventing war was adopted tonight by the League of Nations committee on security and arbitration.

The committee adjourned after voting to send the results of its work to all governments in preparation for a general discussion at the September assembly of the League.

The German-inspired treaty, as well as other model conventions touching on security and non-aggression which were adopted yesterday, were drafted with the hope that they will hasten disarmament, and the committee's action means that the Assembly of the League will decide when and where further attempts will be made to bring about a general conference on the subject of reduction of armament.

OBJECT AND METHOD

The idea is to induce all states to sign the model treaty. The essence of the so-called German treaty is that the nations will bind themselves in advance to accept the recommendations of the League Council in case of a threat of war and to refrain from measures liable to aggravate the dispute. Its object is the same as that of the proposed Kellogg pact, namely, the outlawry of war.

A project to establish a scheme of financial assistance for countries victims of aggression was sent to the Assembly to be put in permanent form.

COMMISSIONER WANTS APOLOGY

MR. T. W. FLETCHER AT VANCOUVER POLICE INQUIRY HAS DEMAND TO MAKE

Says Sergeant McLaughlin Should Make Good Allegations or Apologize for Them

VANCOUVER, July 4.—Flat denial was given by Joe Celona, alleged Italian operator of disorderly houses, at the police inquiry today, of earlier evidence by police officers.

His only connection with premises raided by police was that of owner, witness swore, and he made no effort to ascertain the nature of the business carried on by his tenants.

Celona's testimony concluded evidence at this investigation. He was examined first by his own counsel, G. G McGeer, K.C., will present his summing up argument Thursday.

An effort by T. W. Fletcher, police commissioner, to force an apology from Sergeant George McLaughlin, or proof of charges suggested in that officer's examination Tuesday was not successful.

APOLOGY DEMANDED

At the close of the evidence Mr. Fletcher addressed himself to Commissioner Lennie:

"McLaughlin made a rather nasty remark against me yesterday, which I feel not so much on my own account as that of my family. I ask that he either publicly apologize or be prepared to prove those allegations."

In reply the sergeant pointed out that he had been attending the inquiry thirty-four days. He also had a wife and family and during that time "plenty of dirt" had been thrown at him.

Mr. Fletcher insisted that the commission was the tribunal before which the matter should be threshed out. Neither Mr. Lennie nor Mr. Macneill agreed with him.

Auto Race Fatal

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 4.—Bruno Miller, Detroit driver, was almost instantly killed this afternoon when three cars piled in an automobile race here. Mike Ballas, of West Allis, driving the car following Miller on the tenth lap, crashed into the wreckage and was seriously injured, and the driver of a third car piled and was slightly hurt.

FATAL STUNT

JOLIET, Ill., July 4.—Three persons were killed today when a wing crumpled on a commercial plane as it looped the loop at an altitude of 1,500 feet.

At the wedding reception the young man remarked: "Wasn't it annoying the way that baby cried during the whole ceremony?"

"It was simply dreadful," replied the prim little bridesmaid; "and when I get married I'm going to have engraved in the corner of the invitations: 'No babies expected.'"

News and Notes of the Interior

THE ROLLA TRAGEDY

PRINCE GEORGE—Lee Floyd Packer, of Rolla, B.C., was sentenced to eight months in Oakalla jail after pleading guilty to a charge of manslaughter, following the death of his father, A. W. Packer, near the family home on February 4. The jury in the trial disagreed, and rather than wait for the Fall assize court, Packer changed his plea to one of guilty. During the trial it developed that the father of the youth was of a quarrelsome disposition and that it was after the man had chased the mother and children out in the open that Lee Packer secured a shotgun and fired at his father after warning him to stop.

J. M. McCaskell, also of Moricetown, sustained severe cuts and bruises from the same cause.

BONANZA GOLD ORE

ALICE ARM—The facts in regard to the new gold strike on Granby Bay are as follows: Construction work is being carried on by the Granby Co. at their Bonanza property on Bonanza Creek. Two of the workmen — Ralph Ingraham and John McCallum—one evening broke some rock in an outcropping of quartz not far from the camp. This showed free gold. Further prospecting showed that this quartz ledge could be traced over a distance of several hundred feet. Some specimens of the rock showed a fairly rich mineralization of free gold. It is understood here that the greater portion of the ledge, as uncovered, is located on the Granby holdings of the Bonanza property.

WOMEN DECIDE PENDING POLL

MRS. MONTEITH SAYS 52 PER CENT OF ELECTORATE ARE OF GENTLER SEX

Appeals for Return of Mr. R. H. Pooley Again in Esquimalt Riding

In spite of threatening weather, which had the effect of keeping a number away from the gathering, there were more than three hundred ladies assembled on the lawn of the residence of Mrs. C. E. Pooley, Lampson Street, yesterday afternoon to hear political matters discussed, and to enjoy the hospitality of the hostess.

Mrs. Alex. Monteith, of Esquimalt, called attention to the fact that the women of the province represented about fifty-two per cent of the electorate. Women had a great power in their hands, and should exercise it for good government.

In this election in Esquimalt the opportunity was offered to vote for Mr. R. H. Pooley, who was known from one end to the other of the riding, or Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, a stranger from Vancouver. She reviewed the history of Mrs. Smith's representation of Vancouver in the Legislature from the time that she was elected with the largest vote ever given up to the last election when she would have been defeated, except for the calling into requisition of the absentee vote.

"Where were the 15,000 women voters of Vancouver in this last election?" she asked.

"I do not know many women that are ready to take other women's cast-off, and they will not do it in Esquimalt," she added.

At some length she reviewed the attitude of Mrs. Smith on the social legislation, about which she was boasting of having had so much to do. She declared that Mrs. Smith had lined up against it in the earlier years of the attempts to get this legislation through the House.

She had done the same with respect to the movement for state health insurance, voting against the movement in this direction when brought up, until Mr. J. R. Colley at the last session brought the matter forward as an election dodge, and then she voted for action on the part of the Legislature.

The West Coast Road was described as another election dodge by Mrs. Monteith, who said that thirty years ago she had heard this road discussed. It was strange that after twelve years in power the Liberals had suddenly awakened to the importance of it.

WOMEN AND FRANCHISE

Mrs. Owen Campbell, of Montreal, who is visiting in the city, and who has attained an excellent reputation here as a public speaker, called attention to the remarks which had been made by Mr. Pooley at another meeting, when she felt proud to hear the Conservative candidate for Esquimalt state that he had considered it an honor to cast his vote in the Legislature in favor of the granting of the franchise to women. Mrs. Campbell said it was important that women vote, and vote intelligently.

Vote, she said, for the Conservative party, because it was sane, honest, and progressive.

Mr. Pooley and Mr. H. D. Twigg both spoke briefly. The latter contended that the Liberals could not take credit for the prosperity of the country. The fact that this Government was not able to handle business in a way that spelled success was proven by the way in which the Government handled its own business. There was the Sumas reclamation that was to cost $1,800,000, and which had cost more than $4,000,000. That was not the work of a business government. Other instances of a similar kind were given.

The situation in the province was entirely altered of late years, following the war, by the fact that the United States had become immensely wealthy, while the resources of Great Britain had been taxed to take care of its own problems. The result had been that money had become easy to obtain in the United States for investment, and the Government took the credit for this condition, Mr. Twigg said.

PLEASANT FUNCTION

During the afternoon some very pretty dances were given by little Misses M. Grute and C. Brown. In addition to this Mrs. Dorothy Wilson's pupils of the Russian School of ballet dancing contributed some excellent exhibitions. All of these were given on the lawn. The pupils of Mrs. Wilson who appeared were Miss Doreen Wilson, the talented exponent of this style of dancing, and little Misses Josephine Wilson, Verna Harte, Della Bell and Betty Scott.

Delicious refreshments were served during the afternoon, the whole event being exceedingly pleasurable and instructive.

An Irishman one day entered a barber's shop for a shave. After he was seated and the lather applied, the barber was called to the adjoining room where he was detained for some time.

The barber had in the shop a pet monkey which caused great amusement by imitating its master. As soon as the latter had quitted the room the monkey seized the shaving brush, dipped it in the lather, and proceeded to apply it to the Irishman's face.

When this was finished to the monkey's satisfaction, the little animal took up a razor, and, after stropping it, turned to Pat to shave him.

"Stop that," cried Pat firmly, sitting up in the chair. "Ye can tuck the towel in me neck, and put the soap on me face, but begorrah, yer father's got to shave me."

Royal Colonial Institute Celebrates Sixtieth Anniversary of Its Birth—Sir Ronald Storrs' Address on Island of Cyprus Vastly Enjoyed—Louisa M. Alcott Cot to Be Presented to Royal Free Hospital in Memory of Author of "Little Women"

By ELIZABETH MONTIZAMBERT

This month is the sixtieth anniversary of the birthday of the Royal Colonial Institute, for the "Colonial Society," as it used to be called, was born in Willis' Rooms, St. James', June 26, 1868, with Viscount Bury to usher it into existence. Next year it was such a healthy infant that Mr. Gladstone, the Prime Minister; Lord Granville, and two other cabinet ministers, attended the inaugural dinner.

The society is almost as fickle about its name as a Paris street. At the age of one it took the prefix "Royal," with Queen Victoria's consent. A year later it changed its mind and became the "Royal Colonial Institute and, in deference, I suppose, to all those curiously minded people who read a stigma into that sturdy word "colonial," it is now about to suffer a further metamorphose into "The Royal Empire Society."

It started with 174 members and has now 15,000, with an income of £25,000, and does a vast amount of excellent work in furthering the interests of the Empire by means of its various committees that include an Imperial studies committee, an Empire trade and industry committee, a migration committee, and by its fine Empire library of some 185,000 volumes and pamphlets which are at the disposal of the members.

Besides providing a pleasant rendezvous for visitors from overseas who like to find their home papers in Northumberland Avenue, the Royal Colonial Institute draws the different parts of the Empire closer by arranging entertainments for governors and administrators on their way to or from their overseas tasks.

CYPRUS DESCRIBED

I went to one of these R.C.I. luncheons this week when the guest of honor, Sir Ronald Storrs, C.M.G., Governor of Cyprus, who has just returned on leave from that enchanting island that Caesar once gave to Cleopatra, and where Richard Coeur de Leon married his Berengaria after rescuing her from the indiscreet Commenos.

It was delightful to hear Sir Ronald sketch the island's romantic history and the possibilities of its development, now that water has been discovered from a subterranean source. The big luncheon room of the Cannon Street Hotel was filled with guests from all over the Empire, eagerly listening to the interesting facts about the commercial development of the wine, cotton, silk, tobacco, flax, asbestos, copper and orange industries, and the potential source of wealth of the Carob or locust bean, that, quite apart from its uses for cattle food, and a preparation for finishing the surface of linens, may one day leap into fame, when chemists can make transparent the opaque, non-inflammable film that is one of its byproducts.

LOUISA M. ALCOTT CRIB

Many Canadians who have shown a practical interest in the endowment of a cot in the Royal Free Hospital to the memory of the author of the immortal "Little Women," will be interested to hear that the efforts of the committee, organized by "Pandora," of The Sunday Times, better known to her friends as Mrs. Leonard Rees, and to Canadians as Mary MacLeod Moore, have now been successful. Next Tuesday, Lady Hewart of Bury will present to the president of the hospital the endowment of the Louisa May Alcott Crib, £100 to the Maternity Centenary Fund of the hospital, and about £25 for general expenses. Some of the money was collected in Canada by Mrs. Hayter Reed, who is also presenting to the hospital a portrait of L. M. Alcott, inscribed "From Kate Lowrey Reed, in memory of happy hours spent reading aloud "Little Women" to her daughters, Virginia, Juliet and Grace Lowrey."

ASCOT WEEK

The time has long gone by when people made a fetish of being out of town on certain days, or living in certain districts, but though there were many strong-minded people who resisted the lure of Ascot, the crowds seemed greater than ever. No one knows what the dressmakers would do without this celebrated race week. This year the flurries of rain rather spoiled the effect of all the pretty frocks that had to be hurriedly hidden under mackintoshes, but the charming wide hats could not conceal the lovely complexions that, in spite of all the cynics say, are not all made up on the toilet table. A great many Canadians had obtained admission to the royal enclosure through the High Commissioner for Canada.

"Artificial ice" does not refer to the new ice rink at Hampton Court, but to the more homely uses set forth at a pleasant luncheon given by Mrs. Cloudesley Brereton at the Carlton this week to expound, with the help of Sir Arbuthnot Lane and Dr. Sloan Chesser the practical advantages of the gas operated refrigerator in the kitchen. Sir Arbuthnot, taking the point of view that the health of the nation lies in the hands of the women who prepare its food, urged his hearers to use more ice and eat more fruit as a means of avoiding those scourges—appendicitis, rheumatism and cancer.

LONDON MUSEUMS

There are many unsuspected museums in London and their number will shortly be increased by the opening of a collection of insurance relics somewhat on the lines of the museum in Boston. The collection will be housed in a new building in the city and will contain old firemen's uniforms, badges, insurance policies and queer old fire engines. Quaint as these exhibits undoubtedly are they must give place, in the matter of unexpected things to collect, to the exhibits in the Haslemere Educational Museum where Mr. Joseph King has gathered the old-fashioned utensils used by the peasants of bygone centuries.

Few people would ever think of collecting anything as unwieldy as mangles, but anyone who takes the trouble to go out to Haslemere will see the most attractive Icelandic mangles and other ancient ones dated as long ago as 1590. Some of these homely utensils are beautifully carved and remind one of the time when the people had not lost the sense of beauty and nothing was too humble to be adorned for daily use.

AMBASSADOR THEATRE

The new play, "Tell Me the Truth," at the Ambassador, is so far below the level of the plays usually presented at that attractive little theatre that the kindest thing to do would be to tell anything but the truth. Why Miss Clare Greet should have lent her delicate art, or Miss Iris Hoey her undoubted ability to such a play is not easily understood, but since it will probably be dead by the time these lines are read, perhaps one had better write, "Nihil nisi bonum."

Beauty's Boudoir—Take Care of Eyes

By MARIE LA ROQUE

A prominent London doctor says that the eyes, more than any other feature of the face, reflect the condition of the health. The condition of the complexion may be misleading. Some women have apparently healthy skins when actually in poor health but, according to this doctor, clear, sparkling, radiant eyes are practically never present unless health is prime.

Merely maintaining good general health is not enough—the eyes themselves must be kept in good condition, and many enthusiastic and radiantly healthy young sportswomen nowadays neglect their eyes sadly. The effect of bright sunlight is apt to be harmful to the eyes. Blue-eyed blondes with light or scanty eyelashes are apt to feel the effects of too strong light sooner than brunettes with dark heavy lashes. This London doctor advises women to take goggles on their Summer vacations. goggles that bulge out like beetle's eyes for wear when driving on dusty roads, for dust is extremely injurious to the eyes, and a pair of dark-lense glasses for wear when the eyes feel irritated by the bright light on the seashore or water.

Simply by taking care—without the use of the dark-lense glasses—much can be done to protect the eyes from the glare of the sun. Don't try to read or otherwise use your eyes in the bright sunlight. Take a position so that the light shines from behind you, casting the face as well as the book or work into shadow. Don't play tennis—more than you have to—with the sun shining into your eyes. Don't tax your eyes before breakfast. If you have spent the day in the open and come home with your eyes feeling tired and possibly inflamed, don't make the mistake of trying to read or sew in the evening. Never—and this is very important—never use your eyes when they are inclined to be "teary" or to twitch. This is a sign that your eyes are really fatigued. They are protesting against any more work for the day. Bathing them in cold water or a solution of witch hazel or boric acid will relieve them, but what they really need is rest.

Studying eyebrows throws as much light on personality as studying mouths or noses. There are eyebrows that show artistic ability, eyebrows that indicate craftiness, and others that show a truthful nature. If you would like to know more about the indications of eyebrows please send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and I will send you this week's circular giving this interesting information.

One of the two girls in the bus was reading a newspaper.

"I see," she remarked to her companion, "that Mr. So-and-So, the octogenarian, is dead. Now, what on earth is an octogenarian?"

"I'm sure I haven't the faintest idea," replied the other girl. "But they're a sickly lot. You never hear of one but he's dying.—Life.

Metropolitan Church Is Scene Of Wedding

Charming in every detail was the marriage ceremony performed at the Metropolitan Church on Tuesday evening, Rev. W. J. Sipprell officiating, when Miss Agnes Allingham Given, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Given, of Lisbon, Ireland, became the bride of Mr. William Henry Whiteley, son of the late Captain W. H. Whiteley and Mrs. Whiteley, of 1186 Yates Street.

Friends of the bride had decorated the church with a profusion of lovely Summer flowers, and the guest pews were marked with mauve and pink stocks, tied with bows of tulle.

Given in marriage by Mr. W. Garner, of Ladysmith, the bride was exquisite in her bridal gown of Mountmellick lace, of the palest champagne shade, fashioned with a long bodice, the full skirt ornamented at the waistline with a double row of seed pearls. Rows of tiny georgette frills trimmed the skirt underslip in front. Her embroidered net veil was caught to her head with a coronet of orange blossoms, and fell in soft filmy folds to the hem of the gown. She carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses, deep cream sweet peas, sweetheart roses and fern.

Her two attendants were Miss Mildred Garner and Miss Helen Whiteley, a sister of the groom, dressed alike in bouffant frocks of taffeta in shades of ladyfinger yellow and orchid, and trimmed with gold and silver lace, respectively. Each wore a bandeau of taffeta combined with French flowers to match her frock. The bouquets were of orchid and shell pink sweet peas and fern.

Mr. Ernest Urry was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Harold McDonald and Mr. Roy Bradshaw.

During the signing of the register, Miss Helen Gibson, of Vancouver, sang very beautifully "Until."

A reception was held after the church ceremony at the home of the groom's mother, where the young couple stood beneath a decorated wedding bell to receive the congratulations and good wishes of their many friends. The drawing-room and dining-room were arranged with roses, delphiniums and stocks, and the table, of which the three-tier wedding cake occupied the place of honor, was arranged with mauve and pink sweet peas, mauve tulle and mauve candles in silver candelabra.

Mrs. Whiteley, wearing a smart gown of lace and transparent velvet over shell pink chiffon, assisted the bride and groom in receiving. She wore a black hat to match her gown and a corsage bouquet of rosebuds and sweet peas.

The bride and groom left on the Princess Louise for Alaska, the bride traveling in a becoming frock of golden brown chiffon, finely tucked and frilled over a gold hand-embroidered slip and a French model hat to match. Her wrap was of brown velour, and she wore a beautiful red fox fur, the gift of the groom.

To the bridesmaids the groom gave initialed silver compacts; to the best man, gold cuff links; to the ushers, gold knives. The bride's gift to the groom was a fountain pen set.

On their return from the honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Whiteley will make their home in Vancouver, the groom being a member of the staff of the Royal Bank.

Pianoforte pupils of Mrs. R. T. Chave, A.V.C.M., held their monthly recital at the studio, Harcourt House, 235 Government Street, last Friday evening. Realizing that nervousness or a lack of self-confidence is a decided drawback to progress, it is Mrs. Chave's intention to have different pupils give short talks regarding that subject at each recital, hoping in this way to help to overcome this fault. Last week Ruth Baxter gave a splendid talk on "Self-Control," and Donald Marchant was given the subject, "The Influence of the Mind Over the Body." The subject for next month will be "Self-Possession."

Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont

There is something about a train that makes every woman who wears one feel like a queen. For that reason I suggest that you include one dress in your evening wardrobe that sports one. Of course, I would not advise this if you have not three other evening frocks. Trains are still something of an innovation.

Here is an evening gown that features the train in such an unassuming way that it precludes the possibility of affectedness. It is of black satin, with touches of blue in the lining of the train, and the puff at the side, which is introduced to balance the large bow on the other.

The deep V neck is edged with folds of black tulle, which softens any hardness that may result from a too consistent use of taffeta.

Playground Helped

As the result of her bridge party at Alexandra Club a few days ago, Mrs. Mosher has in hand $50 toward the rental of the children's playground on lower Johnson Street. This is the equivalent of four months' rent. Mrs. Mosher wishes to express cordial thanks to the many friends who helped to make the affair a success, and to those who gave refreshments.

The Luckiest Lady

By RUBY M. AYRES

XI—THE CABLE

Biddy sat with Marna all the afternoon, for Liscard had called and said that on no account must she be allowed to get up.

"Better—yes, she's much better," he told George Paget. "But a little extra rest will do her all the good in the world. Let her stay in bed."

And Marna was glad of the rest—glad to sleep and dream, and let the world slip by unheeded.

"I shall get quite, quite well and strong again," she said several times to Biddy, meeting the Little Flapper's anxious gaze. "And then we'll all go away and be happy."

She tried to believe that such a thing was possible.

"After all, will-power is everything," she told herself. "If I say I will get well, I know I shall."

In the evening Paget came upstairs, smiling and mysterious.

"I've had a letter," he said, leaning on the foot-rail of his wife's bed, and looking at her with adoring eyes. "Guess who it's from!"

Marna shook her head.

"I can't. I was never any good at guessing, and don't tease."

"It's from Hugh," George said triumphantly. He screwed his monocle into his eye and produced the letter from his pocket.

"You'd better read it yourself," he said. "He writes so badly, I can't make half of it out. But one thing I've managed to decipher, and that is, he's not to be married. Never was! Says he thought we might have heard rumors, and that it's all rot."

He watched his wife's face anxiously as he spoke, but could detect no change of expression.

"Like to read it?" he asked again, rather stiltedly.

"No, thank you. Just tell us what's in it," Marna answered. But her pulses were beating fast, and she was conscious of such an acute sense of relief that it was almost pain.

Like one in a dream she heard Paget's stammering attempts to decipher his friend's difficult writing.

"He says it's as hot as hell—at least, I think the word's 'hell.' Says he's busy—hopes we are all well. Had a good voyage out—says it's all rot about him being engaged—sends his love to you and Biddy. That's all."

There was a little silence, which Biddy broke.

"Well, I'm glad he's all right," she said lamely.

George Paget chuckled.

"Yes, glad he's all right—good old Hugh!" He thrust the letter back into his coat-pocket and beamed at Marna. "Made up your mind where you want to go yet, you two?" he asked.

"Not yet, dear. We're going to talk it over, aren't we, Biddy?"

"Yes."

"Right-ho! Just let me know, and I'll fix it up—eh, what?"

"Yes."

But it was several weeks before Marna was strong enough seriously to contemplate going away. She kept putting it off with some pretext or other. The weather was too cold—she was too tired to think of packing. She liked her own home best when she was not feeling quite fit. She manufactured a hundred and one little reasons for not wanting to be moved at once.

Dr. Liscard aided and abetted her.

"She mustn't be hurried. Let her take her time."

He assured everyone that there was no need for alarm, that Marna was slowly, but surely getting stronger every day.

Only to young Blair, who often came over, did the Little Flapper confide her fears.

"I don't believe she's really better. I believe Dr. Liscard just says that to comfort us. Do you think she looks any better?"

John answered that he honestly thought she did.

"She's so much more lively," he said. "Talks ever so much more than she used to. Even the mater thinks she's much better than she was two months ago."

Biddy eyed him with suspicion.

"If you're just saying that to please me—" she threatened.

"I'm not. Honest Injun I'm not, though there's nothing in the world I wouldn't do to please you, Biddy," he protested.

Biddy made a grimace.

"Don't be silly!" she retorted.

John Blair caught her hand as she would have turned away.

"I say, are you never going to be nice to me?" he demanded gruffly.

"I am nice to you."

"Is that the best you can do?" Biddy wriggled away from him. "Why do you talk like this? It's so silly."

His young face paled a little.

"You mean that you don't like me at all?" he asked.

"Of course I like you."

"Yes, but—well, I mean—love me, then!" he stammered.

"Love you!" Biddy stared, her face flushing from chin to brow. "What are you talking about?" she gasped.

"Asking if you love me. You've got to love someone some day, and I'd treat you decently. Biddy, I swear it. I've never met a girl to touch you, and if there's no other man you like better than you like me——"

"There is!" Biddy said sharply, and a sudden desolating memory of Hubbard swept through her heart.

There was no man in the world like him; no man would ever quite take his place in her heart.

And yet there was no adequate reason for it. He had always treated her as a child, and she had always known that it was Marna whom he loved, and yet——

"If only I could see him just for a minute!" the Little Flapper told herself wildly.

He had always given her such a sense of strength and security.

"I'm a fool, I know—a perfect little fool!" she thought humbly; but it did not alter things, and her face was painfully hot and flushed as she looked at John Blair.

"Another man—who is it, then?" he demanded roughly. "I thought you didn't like men. You never seem to want to be with them, Biddy——"

Biddy pulled herself away from him.

"Oh, leave me alone—leave me alone!" she said, and ran upstairs.

"Was that John I heard talking to you?" Marna asked when presently Biddy went to her room.

"Yes."

"Has he gone, then?"

"I don't know. I left him downstairs."

"Biddy, you funny child! Have you quarrelled?"

"No, but he's so silly." Biddy frowned at the memory of John's eyes. "He asked me if I loved him," she admitted reluctantly.

Marna checked a smile.

"And—you don't?" she asked.

"Of course I don't. He's only a boy."

"A nice boy, Biddy."

Biddy shrugged her shoulders.

"Well, I don't love him, anyway," she reiterated.

* * * *

It was the day following that Hubbard's cable came from Shanghai.

Biddy was standing at the open door, talking to Harnigan, who was waiting to take Marna for a drive.

It was a lovely Spring afternoon, with fleecy white clouds in a blue sky, and pale sunshine everywhere.

"You can sniff Summer-time, Harnigan!" the Little Flapper said delightedly. She screwed up her little nose and sniffed the air. "Can't you sniff Summer-time, Harnigan?"

Harnigan answered stolidly, "Yes, miss," but made no attempt to follow her example.

Biddy chuckled.

"Do you ever get excited about anything?" she demanded interestedly, then broke off as a telegraph boy wheeled up to the front door and almost fell off his bicycle at her feet.

"Telegram," he said laconically.

Biddy took the envelope without interest, glanced at the name written upon it, and changed color.

"Wait a minute!" She fled into the house and into the library. She knew before she opened the envelope who the message was from, knew the minute she read her own name on its address.

Careful calculation had told her that Hubbard must have received her letter and Marna's almost a week ago. She had expected that he would write to her in reply, but this cable— She opened it with shaking fingers.

"Sailing England July 1st.—Hubbard."

"Heavens!" said Biddy, in a little agonized whisper.

July 1st! That had been yesterday. Too late now to stop him! Too late to undo the mischief she had already done! Too late to do anything!

She felt cold from head to foot with fear. She felt as if no power on earth could ever again turn her into a living human being.

Out in the hall she heard Marna's voice.

"Biddy! Biddy dear, aren't you coming?"

With a great effort she forced herself to answer.

"Yes—now!"

She thrust the cablegram into her coat and went out of the room. The boy from the post-office still lounged negligently by the front door.

"No answer," Biddy said hurriedly, and with relief saw him cycle off down the street.

"Who was the telegram for?" Marna asked idly.

"For me—from John Blair."

Biddy had told the lie before she was aware of it, but to her relief Marna only smiled.

"Poor John! Don't be too unkind to him, Biddy."

NORTH VANCOUVER CHIEF SUSPENDED

NORTH VANCOUVER, July 4.—Chief Constable W. W. Hemingway, of North Vancouver district police, was relieved of duty until July 16 by the Police Commissioners on Tuesday night, pending investigation of charges laid against him by Constable W. Aylward.

The accusations laid by Constable Aylward are illegal transfer of municipal funds and unbecoming conduct.

Pending the outcome of the probe, Constable C. Girr will be acting chief constable.

At The Playhouses

DOMINION THEATRE According to Victor Seastrom, director of "The Divine Woman," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production at the Dominion Theatre this week, its star, Greta Garbo, is responsible for introducing a new type of acting on the screen. The old "vampire" type has been doomed, but Greta is substituting it with a sort of innocent sophistication which combines all the standards of virtue with the best dramatic qualities of the "vamp." She has not appeared in innocent roles by any means, but she has succeeded in playing sophisticated roles in such a manner that she has drawn sympathy for her character, no matter how many of the social or moral standards that screen character violates.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE Although Alice White, the petite school vamp, Gigles, in "Harold Teen," now playing to capacity crowds at the Playhouse Theatre, is quite decidedly a blonde, one of her greatest parts was that of the brunette Dorothy in "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes." Miss White claims that an actress can change her personality along with her wig and she has just proved her case in the opinion of many.

CAPITOL THEATRE "The Lion and the Mouse," Warner Bros.' Extended Run production, with an all-star cast headed by May McAvoy and Lionel Barrymore, is a brilliant screen revival of one of the most astonishingly successful plays of the past generation. Yet this play went the way of so many good plays, being hawked from producer to producer all up and down Broadway, until the lucky man took a chance. Frank Bacon's "Lightnin'" and Anne Nichol's "Abie's Irish Rose" are other examples of the long-rejected, which finally won out. "The Lion and the Mouse" is now playing at the Capitol Theatre.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

MR. BEATTY SUBMITS CABLE MERGER VIEWS

LONDON, July 4.—The Daily Mail says today that E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, has made important submissions to the British Government, embodying Canadian views concerning the rumored merger of wireless and cable companies to operate Imperial communications. Until these recommendations are sifted out delay in publishing the terms of the settlement is inevitable, says the newspaper. No confirmation of these statements is obtainable.

Reginald Denny Shows at Variety in "Take It From Me"

"Take It From Me," is Reginald Denny's funniest picture. The Universal-Jewel production opens its engagement at the Variety Theatre today. Starting with a bang as Denny, as an extravagant young heir, sinks the last dollar of his inheritance on a horse which just can't win first place, the picture moves rapidly from one comedy situation to another. It is all plausible comedy, too, however fantastic it may seem, for every ridiculous situation is logically accounted for, and one's credulity is seldom taxed. Also on the same bill is "Matinee Ladies," starring May McAvoy and Malcolm McGregor.

Rebuilt Custer's Stockade for Film Now at Columbia

An exact replica of the famous stockade of Fort Custer was designed and constructed for use in the Charles R. Rogers picture, "The Red Raiders," the new Western production starring Ken Maynard, starting today at the Columbia Theatre. Within its confines are eight houses, the largest of which is sixty-two by thirty-two feet in dimension. Each structure is covered with sod roof, and is equipped with corrals and partitions of the usual type. "The Red Raiders," filmed in the historically famous Indian territory near Lodge Grass, Montana, was participated in by thousands of the native Indians of the adjacent reservations.

Auto Suggestion May Cure Nervous Cases, Says Doctor

It is very hard to explain how mental diseases can be cured by auto suggestion or hypnotism, says A. M. Langsner, M.L.L.C, who will present startling experiments at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Wednesday, July 11. So many people smile when they hear someone say that a paralytic or a stammerer can be cured and made to walk or talk without the use of drugs, only by the mysterious will power of a scientist. However, that is true in some cases. It is well understood that the mental cures are only possible with nervous cases. If a person has an arm cut off in an accident, doctors are not able to give that person another arm by suggestion, of course. Hypnotism is a psychic phenomenan which has been scientifically controlled for fifty years or more—especially since the great Charcot—and used by official medicine. Those who have seen, in the Hospital de la Piete, Professor Babinski's miraculous cures, know how many therapueutic resources may be had with auto suggestion.

Father—"Because one of them wouldn't like to take the blame."

DURHAM CASTLE IS ENDANGERED

LONDON, July 4.—The House of Lords discussed yesterday ways and means of saving the old Norman Castle of Durham, which is stated to be in imminent danger of collapse. Durham Castle was built in 1072 by Wiliam the Conqueror, and is now appropriated to the use of Durham University.

MR. JINKS WINNER OF JULY STAKES AT NEWMARKET

LONDON, July 4.—The July Stakes for two-year-olds, five furlongs and 140 yards at Newmarket's Summer meeting yesterday, was won by Major McCalmont's Mr. Jinks, by Tetratena, out of False Piety, starting at odds of 11 to 4.

A. D. Rothschild's Reflector was second, half a length behind, starting at 11 to 2 against, while Lord Roseberry's Midlothian, 50 to 1 against, was third, six lengths back. Five ran. This race won last year by Fairway, this year's unsuccessful Derby favorite.

Joe Wright to Have Stiff Opposition in First Test at Henley

Crack Canadian Oarsman Will Meet T. Collett in Opening Preliminary for Diamond Sculls—Defending Champion Wins Race Easily

HENLEY, Eng., July 4.—Joe Wright, Jr., of Toronto, Canadian sculling champion, meets a formidable opponent in his first heat in the famous Diamond Sculls tomorrow in T. Collett, who, last year, put up a great battle before succumbing to the Canadian in a preliminary heat. Collett comfortably won his heat today from S. Hewens of Maidenhead, in 9 minutes, 7 seconds.

JOE WRIGHT

Famous Canadian oarsman who will meet T. Collett in his first heat for the Diamond Sculls at Henley today. Wright lost the race last year, when he was beaten in the final by Lee, after having had his oar caught in a mooring rope, a few lengths from the line.

In the other preliminary, R. T. Lee, present holder, easily defeated J. McCann, London. Lee, however, is in the other half of the draw, and will not meet the Canadian unless both reach the final on Saturday.

Jack Guest, Wright's clubmate, tomorrow meets T. Sanders of Eton. Neither sculled today.

Collett, an old Cambridge blue, and holder of the Wingfield sculls trophy, won easily over Hewens. Hewens did well at the start and was less than a length behind at the halfway mark, but at this point his scull hit some piles at the edge of the narrow course, which slowed him up materially.

The stiff breeze did not appear to hinder the scullers.

WELL IN HAND

Lee had his race well in hand from the start to the finish, being seven lengths ahead at the halfway mark. He finished almost in a paddle, sculling only twenty-four strokes to the minute.

The opening of the famous regatta today provided an animated scene, the river banks being masses of flowers in the brilliant sunshine. The fashionable crowd was a large one. River craft of every description lined the route at the start and finishing marks, while more flags, colored lamps and bands were on the scene than ever before.

People still sleep occasionaly in punts with tarpaulin covers, and in other small craft. Picturesque houseboats have practically vanished from Henley.

S. Edwards, Old Westminsters, easily defeated J. Pittman, of New College, Oxford, in the third of the preliminary heats in the Diamond Sculls that were rowed off on the Thames during the first day of the Royal Henley regatta today. Edwards' time was 9 minutes, 45 seconds for the mile and fifty-five yards, against 9:49 for R. T. Lee, holder, and 9:57 for Collett, the other two preliminary heat winners today.

PAUL WANER GETS HUNDREDTH HIT

Pirate Star Is First of "Big Six" to Make Century—Frisch Helps Average

Paul Waner and Frank Frisch claimed the spotlight in the "Big Six" as the major league teams sailed past the Fourth of July and the midway mark of the season yesterday. The elder Waner pinched off two hits, while the Reds were slamming the Pirates in morning and afternoon games and so became the first "Big Six" member to own 100 safe drives. Frisch got his full share of the spoils as the Cubs and the Cardinals divided two wild hitting games and nosed ahead of Babe Ruth for the fourth honors by one point, .325 to .324. The Fordham flash collected five out of ten including a homer.

PAUL WANER

Rogers Hornsby got only one hit in the one game played in Boston and fell three points to .391. He lost only one point, however, to Waner, who slipped back two notches while gathering his hundredth hit.

Winnipeg Wrestler Defeats Big Munn

WINNIPEG, July 4.—Wayne "Big" Munn, former world's heavyweight wrestling champion, accepted defeat last night at the hands of Jack Taylor, local grappler, when he suffered an arm injury, following a double wristlock which gave the Winnipeg wrestler the second fall of the evening.

After 17 minutes and 40 seconds of grappling, Munn obtained the first fall. The next went to Taylor in 23:40, and then in 3:55 Munn took the final one standing on his feet, and the Winnipegger was declared the winner.

Munn weighed 264½ pounds and Taylor 228.

MANY CANADIANS WIN MONEY PRIZES

BISLEY CAMP, Eng., July 4.—All last night Bisley Commons suffered a drenching rain, but today there was a return to pleasant conditions, with sunshine and a light to moderate variable breeze.

Two spectacular events were included in today's programme for the hundreds of Empire marksmen gathered for the National Rifle Association's great shoot, the Cheylesmore and Hamilton Leigh competitions.

In these two service rifle competitions, entrants had to cover a course of 100 yards with obstacles such as army wagons and rope entablements scattered around, before firing. In the Hamilton Leigh, ten snap shots were fired at 300 yards; in the Cheylesmore, ten at about 250 yards.

Some interesting prizes have been put up for competition in the "extras" this year, so that by paying a special extra fee, entrants in certain competitions have a chance to win a lounge suit, a telescope, six dozen bottles of beer and similar original awards.

ROYAL MARINES WON

The Lewis gun match today was won by the Royal Marines of Deal, who in twelve months have secured fourteen out of the twenty-one gun trophies competed for.

Four tied for leadership in the Kinnaird service rifle shoot yesterday. Each received $28. They were Lieut. Bounton, P. O. Catcher and Seaman Ransoms of the Royal Navy, and Cadet Level, of Oxford University, who made 34 out of a possible 35. In this shoot Lieut. R. K. McGregor, Ottawa, scored 32 to win $5.

Other Canadian scores: Sergeant W. J. Livingstone, Ottawa, and Lieut. Desmond Burke, Ottawa, 30; Private T. R. Davies, Vancouver, and Sergeant C. W. Doam, Montreal, 29; Lieut. H. W. Bishop, Ottawa, 28.

Colonel S. M. Rogers, Ottawa, commandant, and Inspector Wunsch, Vancouver, adjutant of the Canadian team, along with fourteen members of the team, today visited Aldershot horse show as guests of the British Army.

ROCHE HARBOR DEFEAT SIDNEY

Visiting Balltossers Chalk Up 3-1 Victory on Millmen's Campus—Colpman Heaves Good Ball

Roche Harbor baseball nine visited Sidney last night, and, after seven innings of snappy ball the visitors walked off the diamond with a 3-1 victory. Colpman, who worked on the mound for the Harbor nine, had his benders working to perfection and sent nine of the Millmen's sluggers back to the bench via the strike-out route. Simpson, veteran moundsman, did the heavy work for Sidney and kept the visitors' hits well scattered. He breezed four.

The score by innings follows:

Roche Harbor	0	0	1	0	1	1	0	—3
Sidney	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	—1

Batteries—Colpman and Thomas; Simpson and Lines.

McLARNIN CASE IN U.S. COURT

B.C. Lightweight Contender Being Sued for $50,000 for Breaking Sparring Partner's Jaw

NEW YORK July 4—Jimmy McLarnin, the baby-faced Vancouver Irishman, who turned most of the lightweight division topsy turvy with his brusque right hand, asked the State Supreme Court today not to force him to testify as to whether he prefers to knock his opponents clammy rather than outpoint them.

A court order, secured by Hjalmer Mogren, a sparring partner, who is suing Jimmy for $50,000 for breaking his jaw during McLarnin's practice for knocking out Sid Terris, ordered the smiling Celt into court to answer to these questions and others before the trial itself began.

Jimmy told the court it was easy to see the questions were points Hjalmer had to prove in court. No action was taken

Among the questions Hjalmer set forth for Jimmy to answer was whether he seeks to win his fights by what is called a knockout blow, flooring his opponent into unconsciousness for ten seconds, or on points, according to decision of referees or judges.

FOUR POSSIBLES ARE RECORDED ON FIRST DAY AT HEALS RANGE

Major R. M. Blair, Corpl. B. Beaumont, Lieut. D. Fyvie and Sergt. Watson Register Ten Bulls in Westminster Match—Shoot-Off Will Take Place Today

Capt. Blair Wins MacDonald Brier Match by One Point in Good Shoot

By Staff Correspondent

HEALS RANGE, July 4—Featured by excellent scores, the fiftieth annual prize meet of the British Columbia Rifle Association opened here today. Over one hundred of the leading British Columbia riflemen were on hand to compete for the many valuable trophies, and the numerous money prizes. The meet will continue until Saturday, when it will close with the Lewis Gun competitions in the afternoon.

Morning conditions were anything but good, with heavy showers followed by a slight mirage across the range prevailing. In the afternoon, however, the weather man was in a better mood, and after the dark clouds had passed over, conditions were perfect. The light was good while not even the smallest breeze blew across the various firing points to interfere with the line of fire. According to Master Gunner Collings, the secretary of the association, yesterday was the first time since 1907 that rain had fallen during the annual prize meet.

LIEUT. DAVE FYVIE

Crack local shot who tied for first place in the Westminster match yesterday at Heals Ranges. Lieut. Fyvie is a member of the 16th Canadian Scottish, and is one of Victoria's leading marksmen.

FOUR POSSIBLES

Shooting in the Westminster Match, an event open to all comers, Major R. M. Blair, Seaforth Highlanders of Canada; Corporal B. Beaumont, Seaforth Highlanders of Canada; Sergeant Watson, 16th Canadian Scottish, and Lieut. D. Fyvie, also of the Canadian Scottish, all registered possibles. The event called for ten shots from the 500-yard range. The prize money was evenly divided, while the cup and B.C.R.A. bronze medal will be shot for today.

Scores in this match were exceptionally good, with no less than three 47's being counted out of the prize list.

Planting his last shot in the bull's-eye to give him a total of 101, Capt. D. E. Blair, Seaforth Highlanders of Canada, carried off the honors in the McDonald Brier Match No. 1, S. M. Ruffell and Master Gunner Collings, of the Garrison Rifle Association, and Major R. M. Blair, of the Seaforth Highlanders of Canada, each registered 100 and placed in the above order. This match created an unusual amount of interest as just before firing the final shot the five marksmen were tied with 96 points. The competition was held from the 200, 500 and 600 yard ranges with seven shots at each point and a possible of 105

In the Tyro Match, which was shot in the morning, Bdr. P. Wilkinson, 5th C.G.A., registered 34, one short of a possible, to carry off the first prize. Seven shots were fired from the 200-yard range.

TODAY'S FEATURE

EAGLES TO TAKE ON SONS TONIGHT

Senior Ball Squads Will Send Star Chuckers Into Battle—Interesting Game Expected

Eagles and Sons of Canada will hook up tonight at the Royal Athletic Park in what promises to be one of the most interesting battles in the Senior Amateur Baseball League this season. In the last three tilts the teams ended two deadlocked, while in the third the Canadians gained a hair-line decision after nine innings of fast and interesting ball.

Canadians will use either Johnnie Kerr or Bill Holness tonight, while the birdmen will depend on Eric Whitehead. Holness and Whitehead wrestled in two pitcher's duels this season, and were sent together in the third. Holness, however, developed a sore arm, and Kerr went in and was credited with the win.

Allie McGregor will call the game at 6:15 o'clock.

Vancouver Runner Wins Seattle P.-I. 10-Mile Marathon

SEATTLE, July 4.—Howard Jones of Vancouver, B.C., runner, won the ten-mile modified marathon sponsored by The Seattle Post-Intelligencer here tonight, making the run through the city streets in 57 minutes 5 4-5 seconds.

The second to cross the finishing line at the University of Washington stadium, 100 yards behind Jones, was Charley "Jit" Smith, of Arlington, Wash. Seventeen runners finished the grind.

Rene Lacoste Stops Tilden's March in Wimbledon Tourney

French Ace Checks Comeback of American in Great Battle—Helen Wills to Meet Senorita for Women's Title

WIMBLEDON, England, July 4.—Rene Lacoste, of France, checked the comeback of the veteran United States ace, Big Bill Tilden, today, in one of the greatest tennis battles waged in many a year on Wimbledon's historic turf.

The two tennis sons of France and the United States, fought it out before a neutral gallery of 15,000 Britons, with 5,000 more clamoring outside the gates, locked and guarded by battalions of London "bobbies."

At the end of their sensational duel, the tall, game, but tired Tilden passed from the championship singles in the semi-finals, just as he did a year ago.

Tilden had victory in his grasp a year ago here when his game collapsed utterly before Henri Cochet. He started out today, too, in triumphant fashion, before yielding to the supreme steadiness of Lacoste, who stuck to his guns to win by scores of 2-6, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4, 6-3.

ALL-FRENCH FINAL

Thus, for the fourth time in five years there will be an all-French final on English historic turf. Lacoste's final round opponent next Saturday will be the 1927 champion, Henri Cochet, who had a somewhat strenuous time himself today before he put out his young compatriot, Christian Boussus, in the other semi-final by scores of 11-9, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Lacoste's victory followed the brilliant advance of Helen Wills, who swept into the finals in defeece of the women's championship by defeating Miss Elizabeth Ryan, 6-2, 6-1.

The American girl will meet Senorita de Alvarez, Spanish star, for the championship. The Spanish girl won her way into the final by beating Miss Akhurst, Australia, 6-3, 6-0.

George Lott and John Hennessy, of the American Davis Cup team, finishing their doubles match with the Australian team of Moon and Cummings, which was interrupted yesterday, eliminated the Australian pair, 6-1, 6-1, 1-6, 6-3.

MORGAN DEFENDS TITLE TONIGHT

Junior Lightweight Champion Will Take on Eddie Martin at New York Over Fifteen Rounds

TOD MORGAN

NEW YORK, July 4.—In a fifteen-round bout, postponed from today because of Promoter Humbert Fugazy's objections to staging a show on a holiday, Tod Morgan, of Seattle, will defend his junior lightweight championship against Eddie "Cannonball" Martin, of New York, tomorrow. The match will be at Ebbets' Field.

The 130-pound titleholder recently won a decision over Martin at Madison Square Garden, but only after he had been forced to the limit to retain his championship. As a result of the battle the little veteran put up in that bout Promoter Fugazy rematched the two.

Tillicum Athletic Club Gymnasium Is Open for Training

The Tillicum Athletic Club gymnasium is open from 7:30 to 9 o'clock each night, with the exception of Saturdays, for the use of any amateur boxers who wish to train. It is the intention of the club to stage an amateur card on Saturday, July 14. About fifteen lads have consented to apear.

Is it advisable to use the floater ball for regualr play?

By GEORGE KERRIGAN

For a beginner I should say that it is a good idea to use the floater ball for regular play. The floater is a larger ball than the regulation sinker. It is, therefore, easier to hit. If you will but place a sinker and a floater side by side in the grass on the fairway, you will be greatly surprised at the apparent difference in size. You will not get as much distance with the floater as you will with the regular ball, but the beginner should strive to hit the ball correctly before attempting to attain great distance. The floater is especially well adapted for women players.

Record Number of Patrons Flock Track on Holiday — Belle of America Shows Speed

(Special to The Colonist)

LINCOLN FIELDS, CHICAGO, July 4. — The big English-style grandstand and clubhouse at the Fields were packed with humanity on this Fourth of July holiday, to witness a splendid card of racing. Three stake events caused record-breaking speculation at the mutuel windows. The maiden race for two-year-olds was captured by the favorite, Hadley's Stable entry, Parasphrase, after a short grilling brush through the stretch.

Belle of America, rated the greatest two-year-old since Man-o'-War and Master Charlie, by Kentuckians, who have seen the youngster perform, shook off all contention with ease, in the Joliet stakes, over a six-furlong route, enriching the Belle's owners by nearly $10,000. A very fleet band of high calibre baby sprinters faced Starter Morrisey for this annual classic. The Belle was off the mark like a cat, never was menaced and won all alone.

The Independence Handicap was one of those old campaigner affairs that call for breeding and stamina. Flagstaff set a hard front pace for three-quarters of the long heavy route. Philpot took this eight-year-old bumheer of other years so far out in front, that the onlookers only tried to figure who would finish second. From last place, Jockey Fronk hammered Flatiron all the way around the last turn, picked up every horse but Flagstaff by the time he was a furlong out. Here the old boy showed distress and got no help from his rider. Flatiron outgamed and outfinished Flagstaff by a length.

SCHALK RESIGNS AS SOX MANAGER

Veteran Catcher to Let Somebody Else Pilot Chicago Team—Succeeded Eddie Collins in 1927

CHICAGO, July 4.—Ray Schalk today joined the long procession of those who have managed the Chicago White Sox.

Before today's double-header with the St. Louis Browns he advised Charles Comiskey, the club president, that he was through.

Schalk explained that the team was being built around young men, and for the good of the organization he believed another manager should be named.

Lon Blackburn, veteran infielder, an assistant coach, under Schalk, temporarily was named manager.

Schalk succeeded Eddie Collins as manager of the team last year. His team finished the season in fifth place. When the Sox went South to train last Winter the South Side fans were optimistic that the team would be in the race this year. Until a few days ago it was in the cellar. Now it is seventh.

After returning to the ranks, Schalk went out to catch young Ed Walsh, son of the veteran White Sox pitcher, in his major league debut. Schalk was one time a battery mate of the youth's father.

Young Ed was graduated from Notre Dame last month.

Schalk, the oldest American league catcher in point of service, has been with the Sox since 1912. He came to Chicago from Milwaukee, of the American Association. All his major league experience has been with the South Side team. Schalk first played baseball around Litchfield, his home, in the central Illinois coalfields.

BIG SWIM NEWS

By The Walrus

MENDELL Burditt swam fourteen miles in the second Wrigley Marathon at the Canadian National Exhibition last year before he was taken out with cramps. He was then right up with the leaders, and at times looked like a certain winner. He had neither manager, trainer, nor coach. Ambition prompted him to enter the swim, and sheer determination proved him to be the dark horse. His unassisted performance stirred the pulses of over 200,000 spectators.

This year he is a vastly improved swimmer. His stroke is incalculably better. He has put on the necessary weight, and he is as strong as a lion. He has been training daily in Lake Ontario since the middle of May, and seems to be utterly impervious to cold. A two-mile jaunt is merely a breather to him.

Watch this boy—he has the earmarks of a winner—build, stamina, stroke, and, above all, brains.

He learned his swimming in Winnipeg, under Coach Wilson, of the Tankers' Club.

Burditt will carry the crest of the Canadian National Railways on his husky chest in the big swim this year. Fellow employees in tens of thousands will root for him.

Simple Remedy For Bad Stomach Gives Swift Relief

No Need of Strong Medicines or Diet. Safe and Simple Home Recipe Keeps Stomach in Fine Condition

If you are a victim of Stomach Troubles—Gas, Sourness, Pain or Bloating—you may have quick and certain relief by following this simple advice:

Don't take strong medicines, artificial digestants or pull down your system with starvation diets. For within reason most folks may eat what they like—if they will keep their stomach free from souring acids that hinder or paralyze the work of digestion.

And the best and easiest way to do this is to follow every meal with three or four tablets of Bisurated Magnesia—a pleasant harmless, inexpensive and handy tablet form of Magnesia that promptly neutralizes acidity and keeps your stomach sweet and clean.

A week's trial of Bisurated Magnesia tablets, which any good druggist can supply at trifling cost, should quickly convince you that 90 per cent of ordinary stomach distress is absolutely unnecessary. Be sure to get Bisurated Magnesia Tablets. (Adv.)

The Dispatch was expected to arrive at the scene of the wreck late this afternoon or in the evening.

It was thought that the inquiry into the affair probably would be held here. Another unsuccessful attempt was made to float the Dauntless at high tide today.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tides rise or fall continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of lower low water.

Esquimalt—To find the depth of water on the sill of the drydock at any time, add thirty feet to the height of high water as given above.

Scene of Lake Tragedy

Keen Competition for Isherwood Cup During Vancouver Sailing Races

VANCOUVER, July 4.—The Seattle yacht, Sir Tom, sailed by Ted Geary, retained possession of the Isherwood Cup over the English Bay course this morning, when she registered her third straight victory over the three Vancouver entries. The feature of the final was the race between Lady Van, skippered by Tom Ramsay, and Lady Pat, Ron Maitland's well-known craft, the former taking second place.

Sir Tom led Lady Van over the finishing line by 2.44 minutes and Lady Pat by 4.04, the Riowana bringing up the rear.

Sir Tom thus wins three firsts, with the Lady Pat next with two seconds and a third, while Lady Van had one second and two thirds. The Riowana was the only other boat in the race.

Marine Notes

With nearly 900 Seattle Elks aboard, Ss. Princess Patricia arrived here at 12 noon yesterday and left again at 6 o'clock.

An evolution from feminine to masculine nomenclature took place at Vancouver recently when the steamer Esther Dollar changed to the steamer Chief Skidegate. She did not alter her national allegiance, however, as she remains under the British register.

A total of 93,380 folders of Victoria have been distributed by the Railway Folders and Schedules Distributing Company in various parts of the world during the last five years, according to the Publicity Bureau.

This year's steamer freight for canned salmon from Japan to England has been fixed at forty-two shillings a ton of forty cubic feet, as a result of negotiations between the China Homeward Freight Conference and shippers.

With ninety passengers and eighty tons of freight, the Pacific Steamship Company's vessel Emma Alexander will dock at Rithet piers about 10 o'clock this evening, according to Mr. W. M. Allan, local agent.

With the exception of an eighteen mile stretch, the seventy-five miles of road from Forks to Lake Quinault is nearly completed and will be opened up to tourists within a year. It will then be possible to ferry from here to Port Angeles and make a complete circular tour of the Olympic peninsula in about twelve hours.

Halibut landings at the port of Prince Rupert for the month of June totalled 3,255,000 pounds as compared with 3,650,000 pounds in the corresponding month of 1927.

Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs

A meeting of the local association will shortly be called for purposes of reorganization. Due notice will be given in the papers.

James Bay Troop—The Commissioner and D.S.M. were present at the meeting and presented A.S.M. Dixon with his warrant.

Third Troop—A very good display was given by the Scouts and Cubs to a number of interested parents and afterwards refreshments were served. The Commissioner and D.S.M. were present.

St. Mary's Troop—The Commissioner and D.S.M. were present and A.S.M. Mooney received his warrant. The Commissioner presented Akela Jolson with her Akela wood badge, and spoke of the long and devoted service she had given to St. Mary's South Pack. The Scouts and Cubs presented Akela Johnson with a gift on the occasion of her approaching marriage, and Mrs. McNeil also made a presentation on behalf of the troop and pack committee. Mr. P. R. Leighton also spake feelingly of the good work done by Akela Jolson. The D.C.M. was present and the Cubs gave Akela Jolson a farewell howl. Arrangements were made for the Scouts' first class hike.

St. Paul's Troop—The Commissioner and D.S.M. attended to invest Scouts Riley and Hicks. Arrangements were made for a hike to take place on Monday last, and Acting S.M. Wise announced there would be no more regular meetings till the first Friday after schools reopen. There will be a hike every other Saturday, starting from headquarters at 1:30 p.m.

WOLF CUBS

ST. MARY'S SOUTH

The pack meeting was devoted to first and second star work, Cub Instructor Rice-Jones taking knots for second star tests, and Cub Instructor Marshall helping Akela with tenderpad work.

The following tests were passed: Gerald Coventry, ball-throwing; John Maclean, ball-throwing, leap-frog, hopping, sommersault, time-telling; David Boyd, ball-throwing, leap-frog, sommersault, book-balancing; Ronald Mayell, ball-throwing; Albert Wood, knots, hopping; Frank Mantle, hopping, leap-frog, book - balancing. The meeting closed with games of "Promise Relay" and "Bomb the dug-out."

Next Tuesday will be the last regular meeting until September.

The pack are all busy working on their first star tests. Tenderpad John Maclean has completed his tests and will have his first star presented at the Cub camp, as will also tenderpad David Boyd.

Tenderpad Frank Mantle passed his knots and Tenderpad, Albert Wood his skipping and ball-throwing.

After Tuesday, July 3, there will be no regular pack meeting till September

ST. MARY'S NORTH

The Cubs held their last meeting for the Summer months on Friday. Tenderpad Groff Murdoch completed his first star tests, which will give him the privilege of attending the Cub camp.

Recruit Ronald Bonnell passed his tenderpad tests and took his Cub promise; he was received into the Grey Six. This enrolment is an interesting one as Bonnell's elder brother, Fred, was the first Cub to be enrolled when St. Mary's Pack was formed, seven and a half years ago.

After the pack meeting, St. Mary's South and the Troop joined the North in a bun-feed, which was given as a farewell to Akela Tolson and three sixers from her pack, St. Mary's South.

Mr. P. R. Leighton, chairman of the Troop and Pack Committee; Major MacNeill, secretary and Mrs. MacNeill were present for the "Going Up" ceremony, when sixers Fred Leighton, Harold Horne and Hugh Langton were received into the troop by S. M. Forrester and A.-S. M. Mooney. After the ceremony the three sixers returned to the pack and presented Akela Tolson with a gift from the troop and both packs; Mrs. MacNeill in behalf of the Troop and Pack Committee gave Miss Tolson a beautiful piece of cut-glass, in grateful remembrance of her long service in cubbing.

The District Commissioner and D.S.M. Hartley were also present and during the evening the Commissioner presented Akela Tolson with her Gillwell certificate and Wood badge.

FAIRFIELD

Owing to it being closing day at the schools, attendance was small, but the Cubs who turned up did some good star work and the following tests were passed: Leslie Dawkins, time and ball catching; Leon Camsusa, flag and knots; Perry Queenan, signalling. Seven Cubs are going to the District Pack Camp starting on July 6. There will be no more regular meetings during the holidays till further notice.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

ADVICE TO CORRESPONDENTS

During the many years that I have been writing for publication, it has always been my object to make my newspaper service as valuable as possible to my readers, and I am always willing to answer questions by mail, so that I may give information in the individual cases that are troubling my readers. As a result, my correspondence reaches an average of 20,000 to 30,000 letters each month. You can see that the letters written to me should be as short as possible in fairness to one another.

Today I received three letters which required about forty minutes each for reading, and these letters could probably have been condensed into four or five lines, which would have saved my time materially.

Those of you who correspond with me may wonder how I can answer so many thousands of letters. The simple fact is that I have systematized the work so that no time is lost. I have a staff of several licensed doctors, five secretaries, together with stenographers, mail clerks, and file clerks employed constantly under my personal supervision. All of these people have been especially trained for their work.

Because the different problems that confront most health seekers require much more information that can be given in a short letter, I have prepared thousands of special articles upon subjects relating to the cause and cure of different diseases, so when you write to me, in addition to my necessarily short reply, I enclose thousands of words of advice on the subject upon which you are vitally interested. These special articles have been written in advance so that you may receive an answer to your letter in a very few days. You can help me a great deal and also yourself and the cause of health education in which I am interested, if you will make your letters short and to the point, trying to keep them to one or two hundred words.

My greatest problem is that many of the correspondents insist upon asking me to diagnose their disorders, which of course cannot be done by correspondence. This work is in the field of your family physician. If you have been properly diagnosed, and know the name of the disorder from which you are suffering, I am always willing to send you my opinion about the method of treatment that I believe would be best, but I will not criticise the opinions of other doctors nor attack any method of treatment which I am not advocating. I am too busy giving you useful advice to use space in this column or in my correspondence for criticism of other methods.

On some days the mails to my office are very crowded and letters must necessarily await their turn, so that it may take a little longer for you to receive your reply than I would like. It is not necessary for you to send two or three letters to follow the first if you do not receive an answer as soon as you expect. I cannot answer every letter in this column, and if you desire a reply you must send to me direct your name and a large stamped envelope with your return address.

I am attempting to give practical information in a simple manner so that it will be understood by anyone, and I am happy in the knowledge that these messages are read daily by several million people on the North American Continent. My newspaper service has grown rapidly within the last few years, and I believe that today it is the largest of its kind in the world. This column is written with the one object in view of giving people a better understanding of how to preserve their health and to have health more abundantly.

Correspondents wishing to communicate with Dr. McCoy are advised that his address is Builders Exchange Building, Los Angeles, California, U.S.A.

POLICE FRUSTRATE ATTEMPT TO LYNCH

MARSEILLES, France, July 4.—An enraged Marseilles mob made an earnest and decided attempt to lynch France's newest "Bluebeard," Jerome Prat, alias Pierre Rey, when he was landed here from the Algiers boat today.

Police had expected the mob and had taken their prisoner, who is charged with the strangling of three women and the disappearance of fifteen others, from the boat. A small boat took him to a secluded quarter of the port, but his identity became known there, too, and it was all the police could do to escort him safely to a cell at the court house.

MAKE HOLIDAY AT LADYSMITH

WATER SPORTS FEATURE OF DOMINION DAY CELEBRATION

Varied Programme Well Carried Out and Thoroughly Enjoyed By Large Number Present

LADYSMITH, July 4.—A most successful Dominion Day celebration was held here on Monday. A varied programme had been prepared by the sports committee, which was most suitable for the occasion. At 9:30 a.m. the children of the public school assembled at the Monument and paraded to the Agricultural Grounds, where, after the singing of "O Canada," the enjoyable programme of athletic sports was well carried out. Each event was keenly contested and gave a great deal of amusement to a large number of spectators.

The senior sports also were exceptionally good, the races of various distances and the high and broad jumping exceeding the expectations of the interested assembly.

The aquatic sports, which were held in the afternoon, were also very enjoyable. The weather being ideal a large number of Ladysmith citizens and residents of the district availed themselves of the opportunity of witnessing the many events of the programme. The plain and fancy diving were features of note, also the walking of the greasy pole, which was accomplished after much difficulty.

An enjoyable dance was held in the Agricultural Hall and a smoker in the clubrooms of the local Army and Navy Veterans concluded a most enjoyable Dominion Day celebration.

The Tidewater Smelting Company kindly gave permission for holding the water sports on the waterfront, near the smelter, a courtesy which was much appreciated.

SCHOOL CHAPEL IS DEDICATED

Bishop of Columbia Consecrated Auxiliary to Shawnigan Lake School

The new chapel of the Shawnigan Lake School was crowded with a congregation of boys of the school and their friends at the service of dedication on Sunday morning, conducted by the Bishop of Columbia. The choir and clergy walked in procession from the gymnasium of the school, where they had robed, the choristers in scarlet cassocks and white surplices, led by the cross bearer, and followed by Rev. W. E. Smith, rector of St. Barnabas, Victoria, Rev. J. A. Bastin, vicar of Saanich, Rev. W. E. Cockshutt, vicar of Cobble Hill and Shawnigan, and Rev. E. M. Willis, the school chaplain. The Bishop was followed by the Archdeacon of Columbia, his chaplain.

After the service, which was read by Rev. E. M. Willis, and the lesson by the Archdeacon, the Bishop preached from Psalm lxxxiii, 16-17, and showed the boys the value of a chapel and expressed the hope that it would serve as a place for meditation as well as for the regular services.

The chapel, which has a seating capacity of 300, is of frame construction, finished in half timber and stucco on the exterior. The interior is paneled throughout, the roof being of open timber with heavy trusses, the windows being glazed in diamond shape lead lights and clear glass. The lectern is of the eagle type, beautifully carved in oak by Mr. Gibson, of Shawnigan, who also produced the sanctuary chairs and choir stalls. The east end of the sacrarium has the altar raised in three steps. The organ loft is above the choir on the north side. The pipe organ has been ordered, and will be placed in position shortly.

At the close of the service a number of guests were entertained at luncheon by the headmaster, Mr. C. W. Lonsdale. The governors of the school are Lieutenant-General Sir Percy Lake, Sir Richard Lake, Messrs. C. W. Lonsdale, T. Douglas Grover and J. Y. Copeman.

CLUB PICNIC HELD IN NORTH SAANICH

The North Saanich Social Club picnic, held on Monday at the Experimental Farm Park, was an outstanding success in every way. MOTOR DRIVERS TOO IMPATIENT

Nanaimo Has Difficulty in Protecting Newly-Surfaced Streets—By-Law Advanced

NANAIMO, July 4.—The Nanaimo City Council held a very brief meeting last evening. The by-law to borrow the sum of ten thousand dollars for streets improvement purposes was advanced to the committee stage, with Ald. Cavalsky acting mayor. After this had been accomplished, Ald. Barsby, chairman of the street committee, moved that all persons ignoring the flag warning, at the end of a street which has just been prepared with the new facing, shall be prosecuted. He moved that the police be notified when any driver ignores a flag warning, and prosecution take place in the city police court afterwards. His motion was seconded by Ald. Smith, and carried. Ald. Barsby explained that only two or three hours were required for the proper setting of the new preparation on the streets, but even at that some anxious drivers could not be kept off, even with a warning flag.

Following the above business, the council adjourned on motion of Ald. Barsby, in sympathy with Mayor Busby, in the loss, through death, of his sister, Mrs. James Craig.

Salient Points of the Bidding

South holds the minimum quick trick strength for a bid of one Heart. North in denial of Hearts bids one Spade. South in turn denies Spades by bidding No Trump, protection being assured in three suits. North then shows his second suit, Clubs, which encourages South to bid two No Trumps. North passes. Although it is generally advisable to play a two-suited or semi-two-suited hand with one of the suits as trumps, South has denied both of North's suits and must have the other two suits well stopped.

Salient Points of the Play

Trick 6.—North plays for an even split of the adverse Clubs.

Trick 9.—West discards his only remaining Spade to protect his Heart suit.

Trick 11.—Declarer by putting West in the lead with a Diamond forces a lead up to the Ace-7 of Hearts, both of which cards must make

NEW RECEIVERS ARE DESCRIBED

Marconi Company Sales Manager Visitor in City—Tells of Invention

That this season's Marconi receivers represent a new high standard of radio performance and value is the assertion of Mr. R. M. Brophy, sales manager of the Canadian Marconi Company, who passed through Victoria yesterday on a tour of the Western Canada field.

Mr. Brophy, when interviewed by a Colonist representative, furnished some interesting information regarding the Marconi offerings for the 1928-29 radio season. From what Mr. Brophy states it is evident that the new Marconi radios will be something of a sensation where reception is concerned.

"Presence" is what Mr. Brophy calls this new Marconi tone quality. No other word describes it, he states. There is a real "presence" to the human voice, a real "perspective" to instrumental music, on the new season's Marconi sets.

It would appear that this perfection of tone quality is developed through audio transformers of special design and through the inclusion in the cabinet of a new speaker unit known as the "Temple Air-Chrome." This speaker, Mr. Brophy said, was selected by the Marconi Company as by far the most satisfactory reproducing unit for the new season's receivers. Reproducing every sound from the lower basic notes to the highest audible overtones, the Temple Air-Chrome is, in Mr. Brophy's opinion, the perfect speaker.

Mr. Brophy stated that the Marconi offerings for the 1928-29 season will consist of three receivers—a battery-operated console, a batteryless console and a de luxe combination instrument. All three, he stated, will feature the Temple Air-Chrome speaker as a built-in unit.

Discussing the merits of the various sets in detail the Marconi sales manager expressed much enthusiasm about the new battery-operated model. This will be a six-tube receiver and should prove very popular on the grounds of fine performance and unusually good appearance. Speaking of the new batteryless Marconi receiver, Mr. Brophy stated that it will mark a very decided advancement in the field of "light socket" radio. This, too, will be a six-tube receiver, designed for use with five U.X. 201a radiotrons and one U.X. 171a power radiotron. No batteries, eliminators or accessories will be required to operate this new Marconi model. The mere act of plugging in puts the whole field of radio at the listener's disposal.

It is the intention of the Marconi Company to advertise the new receivers in every part of the Dominion. Mr. Brophy stated that this year's campaign of advertising will be much bigger and more extensive. The Marconi Company are desirous of giving the radio public the complete story of Marconi's newest radio developments. Certainly the "listening public" will be eager to learn the nature of the advancements made possible by Marconi research and engineering.

Called Bonds

Through the lowering of interest rates and the fact that there is an abundance of funds available in the hands of the public for investment, many large industrial and public utility companies are calling in obligations of a high interest rate and issuing lower interest-bearing securities.

You would be well advised to check through your holdings with this in view. We are fully equipped to give you any assistance you may require.

Toronto Mines

(Supplied by R. F. Castle & Co., Ltd.)

TORONTO, July 4.—Trading was fairly active on the board in today's session of the mining market. Specialties such as Noranda, Amulet, Hudson Bay, and Pend Oreille all showed consistent strength and good volume.

A determined effort was made to break Noranda during the first quarter of the session by short interests. Under heavy selling Noranda broke to $48, but at this point was well received, and from then on climbed to the $50 mark, at which point little resistance was made. Final quotations were at $50.75, the close being $50.25 to $50.75. Many sharp market traders have been heard to express the opinion that Noranda would meet tremendous selling around $50. This was not the case in today's trading, when Noranda glided past the $50 mark with ease.

Amulet stepped up in sympathy with Noranda, selling up to 4.45 to close at 4.40-4.45.

A report from the North states that Are A started drilling today. The stock moved up on this news, strong at 35 to 36, up 3 points.

At the closing price of 74, Bidgood was firm. Hudson Bay shows evidence of large accumulation. Opening at 19.55, Hudson Bay sold up to 21.35, finishing strong. Mining Corporation, which has a considerable stock equity in Hudson Bay, was 15 points stronger at 3.49 to 3.50.

Sherritt Gordon at 6.05 to 6.50, closed above the $6 mark for the first time in many moons. Teck Hughes at $11.00 to $11.10 was up 10, while Mandy at $2.95 to $2.98 was 25 points stronger. Pend Orielle at $15.15 was up 15.

Money at Work
For the Small Investor

Dont fall for the Something for nothing bunk.

Beware the suit club lotteries.

In no field does the "something-for-nothing" lure hook more suckers than in that of suit clubs.

There are several methods of suit club promotion—all based on the "something-for-nothing" appeal—the promise of the salesman that you'll get a $40 suit for $4 or some such amount. Salesmen for suit clubs all use about the same sales talk. "Our company is conducting an advertising campaign, but instead of using newspaper and similar advertising we have a new plan, that of personal advertising. We are going to give one of our suits every week to the person we feel can do us the most good—regardless of how much money he had paid in. This is our plan: you pay us $2 a week—a collector will call for it—and because of the large number of friends you have, we will see that you get a suit after two or three payments. All we ask of you is that you wear the suit and tell your friends where you got it."

Who wouldn't bite after a sales talk like this? The unfortunate part of it all is that the same promises are made to everyone. It's a cinch they can't all win and it's a fact that usually no one wins. The average suit club member pays his first several payments confident that the salesman's promise of a good suit after four or five payments will be fulfilled. Then he begins to worry and to question the collector. The collector has many plausible reasons to offer why the suit has not been forthcoming, and the first thing he knows the customer has $24 or $26 paid in. Because of this investment he continues to pay, in order not to lose what he has put in.

At this point the variation in the scheme occurs. The first method, and the one followed by many operators, is to ask the suit club member when he has paid up to come to the tailor shop to make a selection and be measured. Here he is shown samples of very inferior goods and at once becomes dissatisfied with them. The promoter then suggests an additional $13 or $30 for a suit made of better material and the sucker, trying to make the best of a bad situation, pays it and gets a suit worth much less than it has cost him.

RUSSIA BUYS WHEAT

LONDON, July 4.—Huge purchases of wheat on the Baltic Exchange by Soviet Russia are reported in London, traders here expressing the opinion that the movement indicates a severe scarcity of food in Russia.

The quantity bought in Liverpool for spot cash amounts to between 150,00 and 200,000 tons, and Baltic London expects Russia to buy almost as large a quantity again.

The prices agreed to without negotiation thus far have been uniformly as much as thirty cents a quarter above the market rate, which is felt to indicate a tremendous immediate demand for grain.

London brokers say they have reports of long bread lines and a painful shortage of food in Russia, which, before the war, was one of the world's largest exporters of grain. Russia has not bought such supplies of wheat since the Winter of 1919-20.

A man was having a trial run in one of those very small cars. They started off through the streets of London.

Suddenly the light of day vanished, to reappear a few seconds later.

"Hello," said the surprised passenger, "was that a tunnel we went under?"

"No," replied the demonstration expert, carelessly, "that was an omnibus."

WINNIPEG, July 4. — Wheat: Lower Liverpool opening combined with continued very favorable weather conditions througout Western Canada caused a slightly easier tone to wheat values at the opening in Winnipeg this morning. Selling, however, was not aggressive, offerings being absorbed by seaboard buyers, so that, with late steadiness in Liverpool, prices firmed and now rule slightly over last night's close.

Cash demand is excellent for all grades of wheat except No. 3 Northern which grade is going through clearing houses. Overnight sales for export reported fair. Inspections of wheat yesterday totaled 899 cars, but largely at expense of country elevator stocks as country deliveries are falling off, last week's total country deliveries being 2,070,825 bushels against 2,868,310 bushels same week a year ago. The remarkable absorption of over twelve and a half million bushels of wheat delivered on July contracts in Winnipeg yesterday, has tended to make friends of many traders to the long side of the market.

The trade now views the wheat situation as being no scarcity of old wheat, but supplies not unduly burdensome. United States probably will have about one hundred million bushels less wheat than a year ago. European crops, both wheat and rye, are smaller than last year, therefore, while Canada has a wonderful promise, the crop is not made yet and therefore present prices are not considered too high, with future price depending on new crop development.

Coarse Grains and flax—very dull, uninteresting trade.

BUYING LOW

Keep in touch with mining development in British Columbia by consulting our statistical department.

Human nature never changes. Goods of low price are never so desirable as when cost is high. The rule applies to mining stocks as it does to everything else.

When the market is active price counts for little with the inexperienced investor. A few months hence Whitewater, Lucky Jim, Cork-Province, Ruth-Hope, Pend Oreille, Noble Five, Topley-Richfield and Bluebird shares will be selling for startlingly higher prices.

When that time comes investors will be competing for every block of stock offered. Prices are away below values today in the above-mentioned stocks and the wise buyer cannot fail to make big profits by following our present recommendations.

Just a week ago we advertised our opinion that the market had struck bottom. It had, and those who bought have made good money in that short time. Again we advise taking advantage of the present very low prices.

Our July 1 Stock and Bond Report is off the press. Write for free copy.
